MEMPHIS GRIZZLIES 2017 PLAYOFFS GAME NOTES

Grizzlies Commit 23 Turnovers in Game 4…And Win: Memphis overcame 23 turnovers, a franchise postseason record, to defeat San Antonio in overtime, 110-108, in Game 4 of the teams' first round series on April 22 at FedExForum… In doing so, the Grizzlies became just the second team – and the first in over 20 years – to commit that many turnovers against a Gregg Popovich-coached opponent and still leave with a victory in either a regular season OR postseason game.

The last time that happened came on March 17, 1997 against Washington when the Bullets – they would not be known as the Wizards until the following season – routed the Spurs 109-85 despite 23 giveaways... That was Popovich's 47th career game as a head coach after taking over the job midseason (he has now coached 1,656 regular season games and 260 postseason contests)… The day prior to that game against the Bullets, Tim Duncan's Wake Forest Demon Deacons were defeated by Stanford University, ending his four-year collegiate career… Grizzlies head coach David Fizdale was less than a year removed from graduating from the University of San Diego… Grizzlies wing Vince Carter was a sophomore at the University of North Carolina… The Grizzlies played their home games in Vancouver, British Columbia.

No team has won a playoff game against San Antonio despite 23 turnovers or more since Magic Johnson, Kareem Abdul-Jabbar and James Worthy guided Pat Riley's top-seeded Los Angeles Lakers over the eighth-seeded Spurs, 122-110, on April 29, 1988 in Game 1 of their first round series.

Giant Killers: Memphis' first round series against the San Antonio Spurs marks the seventh time the Grizzlies have met a postseason opponent who won at least 60 games during the regular season… Remarkably, Memphis has won two of the previous four postseason series against 60+ win opponents… The Spurs have gone 61-21 in 2016-17 after going 67-15 the previous season, the first time in franchise history they have won 60+ games in consecutive seasons.

We Meet Again: The Memphis Grizzlies and San Antonio Spurs will meet in the first round of the 2017 Western Conference Playoffs… It is the fourth playoff matchup between the teams since the 2010-11 season, the most prolific pairing in the NBA in that span, and fifth matchup between the two franchises all-time… Memphis also squared off with San Antonio in the franchise's first-ever playoff series in 2004.

BIOGRAPHY

Hired by Memphis as the 13th head coach in franchise history on May 29, 2016, David Fizdale enters his first season as head coach of the Grizzlies.

Fizdale joined the Grizzlies after spending the previous eight seasons (2008-16) with the Miami Heat, including the final two as the assistant head coach and the previous six as an assistant coach under Erik Spoelstra. During that time, Fizdale's assistance in game preparation, involvement in player development and outstanding rapport with a superstar-loaded roster played a major role in the Heat's championship success. Dating back to his first season on the Heat sidelines in 2008-09, Miami won more playoff games (70) and playoff series (15) than any team in the NBA and compiled the league's second-best regular season (.623) and fourth-best postseason (.619) winning percentages.

Before his tenure in Miami, Fizdale spent four seasons (2004-08) as an assistant coach with the Atlanta Hawks, where he was instrumental in the development of their young players. The Hawks increased their win total in each of his final three seasons and in 2007-08 earned the franchise's first postseason appearance since 1999. He began his NBA coaching career as an assistant coach for the Golden State Warriors for one season (2003-04).

Prior to joining the Warriors, Fizdale spent five seasons coaching in the college ranks. After one year (1997-98) in the Heat video department, he started his coaching career as an assistant coach at his alma mater, the University of San Diego. After four seasons (1998-2002) with the Toreros, he spent one season (2002-03) as an assistant coach at Fresno State University.

A three-year starter at point guard while playing at the University of San Diego, Fizdale was selected to the All-West Coast Conference team after his senior season in 1996.

The Los Angeles native earned a bachelor's degree in communications and a minor in sociology from San Diego in 1996.

Fizdale and his wife Natasha currently reside in East Memphis. He has one son, Kyle Jackson.
