• After each of their first seven games were decided by 10 or more points, the Pacers’ last four games have been decided by a total of 13 points (3-1 record). The Pacers are 13-2 over the past two seasons (2-0 this season) in games decided by three points or less.

• Victor Oladipo has scored 20 or more points in each of the last 10 games, which is his longest streak of consecutive 20+ point outings of his NBA career. After pouring in a season-high 28 points Monday against Houston, he is currently 14th in the league in scoring average with a team-best 23.0 points per game.

• Victor Oladipo was named Eastern Conference Player of the Week Monday after leading the Pacers to a 3-1 record and averaging 23.5 points, 10.3 rebounds, 4.0 assists and 2.0 steals per game. He has now been named Player of the Week four times in his career, all with the Pacers. Only Paul George (five times) has earned more Player of the Week honors in Pacers franchise history.

• Domantas Sabonis tied his career high with 30 points and set a new Pacers franchise record for field goals attempted without a miss as he shot 12-for-12 from the field in Wednesday’s win at New York.

• Domantas Sabonis tied his career high with 30 points and set a new Pacers franchise record for field goals attempted without a miss as he shot 12-for-12 from the field in Wednesday’s win at New York. Sabonis also recorded nine rebounds, three assists and two blocks in only 21 minutes before fouling out of the game.

• Myles Turner set a new season high with 18 points on 7-for-10 shooting from the field (7-for-7 from 2-point range), and tied his career high with six blocks, including his final rejection with 0.6 seconds remaining to help the Pacers hang on for a 107-105 road win at Chicago Friday. Turner moved into eighth place in blocks in Pacers NBA history last Wednesday at New York, and ranks third in the NBA with 2.5 blocks per game this season.

LOCKING DOWN
During Indiana's win over Memphis on Oct. 17, the Pacers held the Grizzlies to 29.8 percent (25-84) shooting from the field, including just 22 percent (9-41) in the second half.

That effort marked only the fourth time in NBA franchise history that the Pacers held an opponent to under 30 percent shooting from the field, and the first time since Indiana limited the Portland Trail Blazers to a franchise-record 26.7 percent (20-75) shooting on Feb. 8, 2006.

Indiana finished 5th in the NBA last season while allowing opponents to shoot 45.6 percent from the field, and held only six opponents to under 40 percent shooting with a season-low of 37.5 percent.

OPENING NIGHT HISTORY
Tipping off their 52nd season (ABA & NBA), the Indiana Pacers opened the 2018-19 regular season by earning their largest Opening Night victory in NBA franchise history with a 111-83 win over the Memphis Grizzlies. It was the second-largest margin of victory in franchise history behind the Pacers 127-95 win on Oct. 15, 1970, ABA season.

Indiana is now 31-21 on Opening Night in franchise history. The Pacers have won three straight and seven of their last eight season-openers.

Additionally, the Pacers have won eight of their last nine home openers and 10 of the past 12 dating back to the 2007-08 season. Indiana holds a 35-17 record (567) in its first home game of the season.

Nate McMillan enters his third season as Pacers head coach, and his 15th NBA season overall. He holds a 9-5 overall record on Opening night. Including his first three season-openers with Indiana and his final three seasons as head coach of the Portland Trail Blazers, McMillan has earned six straight Opening Night victories as head coach.

HOME COURT HEROES
With a 27-14 record at home in 2017-18, the Pacers secured a winning record on their home court for the 23rd consecutive season – the longest active streak in the NBA.

The NBA record for the most consecutive seasons with a winning record at home is held by the Phoenix Suns, who posted 34 straight winning seasons at home from 1999-2003.

Since the building's opening in 1999, the Pacers have recorded a 511-259 (.667) record at Bankers Life Fieldhouse. The Pacers earned their 500th regular season win in their 22nd comeback win over Cleveland Jan. 12, 2018.

In Indiana’s NBA history, the Pacers hold a 1,082-616 (.637) record at home, the 10th best winning percentage at home amongst active NBA franchises.

TURNER’S BLOCK PARTY
With four blocks in Indiana’s win over Memphis on Opening Night, 10/18, Myles Turner passed Antonio Davis (377) into 10th place and into a ninth-place tie with Steve Stipanovitch (380) for the most blocked shots in NBA franchise history. He climbed into eighth place with two blocks in the win at New York, 10/31.

Now in his fourth NBA season, Turner has finished third in the NBA in blocks in each of the last two seasons. He is averaging 1.6 blocks per game over his career.

OLADIPO STEALS STREAK
On his way to an NBA-leading 177 steals and 2.4 thefts per game during the 2017-18 regular season season, Victor Oladipo collected at least one steal in 64 consecutive games played, which is currently tied for the fourth-longest streak in NBA history.

That streak came to an end in Indiana’s Opening Night victory over Memphis Oct. 17 as Oladipo failed to record a steal. He finished with 16 points, five rebounds and five assists in only 25 minutes of action.

MILE MARKER
The following individual milestones are within reach during the 2018-19 season:

Bill Bayno is in his third season with the Pacers with a long coaching career at all levels in his back- ground. The 56-year-old (5/16/62) Bayno is no stranger to head coach Nate McMillan, having been an assistant to McMillan two different times when he was the head coach at Portland. After that, Bayno was an assistant with the Minnesota Timberwolves and the Toronto Raptors. He has been the director for the Adidas Nations Camp in Long Beach, Calif., and the Adidas Euro Camp in Treviso, Italy, since 2011. Originally from Goshen, Ind., Bayno played collegiately at UMass for two seasons before transferring to Sacred Heart where he was a Division II All-American. From there, he worked in the college ranks at Seton Hall, Kansas, Baptist College, UMass and UNLV (where he was head coach from 1989-2000 and is the third-winningest coach in school history). At UNLV, the Rebels reached the NCAA tournament twice and the NIT tournament twice in Bayno’s five years. In 2000, UNLV won the Mountain West Conference regular season and tournament championships and Bayno was co-coach of the year.

After UNLV, Bayno coached professionally in two pro basketball minor leagues (ABA, CBA) in the Philippine Basketball Association and in Puerto Rico before joining McMillan’s staff in 2005. In 2008-09, he returned to the college ranks as head coach at Loyola Marymount, then re-joined McMillan in Portland in 2009.

Dan Burke is in his 30th year in professional basketball and his 21st season with the Pacers, currently making him the longest tenured assistant coach with the same team in the NBA. During his first eight seasons with the Pacers the 50-year-old (4/3/59) had served as assistant coach and scouting director.

Prior to joining the Pacers, Burke spent eight years with the Portland Trail Blazers (1989-1997) as video coordinator and scout. At one point during his NBA career, Burke was fortunate enough to be with teams that made the NBA playoffs for 17 straight years. While in Portland the Trail Blazers competed in two NBA Finals (1990 and 1992) and three consecutive Western Conference finals.

With Indiana, Burke enjoyed being part of teams that advanced to five Eastern Conference Finals and an appearance in the 2000 NBA Finals. Burke has been fortunate to work with a variety of coaches including Larry Bird, Rick Carlisle, Rick Adelman, Mike Brown, PJ Carlesimo, Ishiah Thomas, Jim O’Brien, Frank Vogel and Nate McMillan.

Born in Lynwood, Calif., Burke calls Sherwood, Ore., home. He graduated from Portland State with a bachelor’s degree in history and in social science. He enjoys time with his family, various outdoor activities, fishing, traveling, and reading.

Burke is married to Peggy and they have two daughters, Melissa and Lindsey.

POPEYE JONES

Popeye Jones is in his sixth season as a Pacers’ assistant coach after having spent his post-NBA career the three previous years with the Brooklyn/ New Jersey Nets (one season in player development, two as an assistant coach) and the Dallas Mavericks in player development.

The 48-year-old Jones (6/17/71) played collegiately at Murray State, where he ranks fourth on the school’s all-time scoring list, first in rebounding, led the nation in rebounding in 1990-91 and had his number (154) retired. He was a 1992 second-round pick of the Houston Rockets, who traded his rights to Dallas. He played one season in Italy before joining the Mavericks in 1993 and ended up playing with Toronto, Boston, Denver, Washington and Golden State before retiring in 2004.

Jones was inducted in the Tennessee Sports Hall of Fame in May 2014. He has three sons, Justin, Seth and Caleb. Seth plays with the Columbus Blue Jackets in the National Hockey League and made his first NHL All-Star team in 2017. Caleb also plays hockey and was a fourth-round draft choice of Edmonton. He currently plays in the Oilers’ minor league system.

Jones is married to Kelsey.
