GAME #48 - TORONTO RAPTORS (34-13) vs. MEMPHIS GRIZZLIES (19-25) SATURDAY, JANUARY 19, 2019 - 7:30 P.M. - SCOTIABANK ARENA TV: SPORTSNET ONE RADIO: TSN RADIO 1050

TEAM NOTES

- The Toronto Raptors continue a three-game homestand by hosting the Memphis Grizzlies on Saturday night at Scotiabank Arena. The Raptors are an Eastern Conference-best 12-5 (.705) against West opponents this season. Toronto is in a stretch where they face West opponents in six of eight games (Jan. 17-Feb. 3). The Raptors also have an opportunity to sweep the season-series against Memphis for the third time in four seasons.
- Toronto has won a season-high eight consecutive home games Dec. 19 - Jan. 17. The Raptors last loss at Scotiabank Arena was Dec. 9 vs. Milwaukee. Since then Toronto has won by an average margin of +8.6 points against Indiana (twice), Brooklyn, Atlanta, Utah, Chicago, Cleveland and Phoenix. The franchise record for consecutive home wins is 12 (2X - last: Nov. 7, 2017-Jan. 1, 2018).
- Toronto improved to an NBA-best 8-1 on the second night of back-to-backs with a 111-109 victory Jan. 17 vs. Phoenix. The Raptors have three more scheduled back-to-backs remaining, the fewest for any NBA team.
- Kawhi Leonard scored a team-high 33 points Jan. 16 at Boston, marking his 20th consecutive game (Nov. 27-Jan. 16) with 20+ points - a career-high streak. He is averaging 29.7 points and shooting .523 from the field, .384 from three-point range and .858 at the free throw line during this stretch. Vince Carter holds the franchise-record scoring 20-or-more points in 23 straight games twice (last: Feb. 27 - Apr. 13, 2001). Leonard's 20 consecutive games with at least 20 points is the longest in the NBA this season.
- Kawhi Leonard was named Eastern Conference Player of the Week after averaging 30.7 points, 8.7 rebounds and .538 (35-for-65) from the field. It's the second time Leonard has won the award this season.
- Kyle Lowry recorded his 5,000th career assist and 3,500th rebound Jan. 17 vs. Phoenix. According to Basketball-Reference.com he joins LeBron James and Chris Paul as the only active players who have recorded 5,000 assists, 3,000 rebounds, 1,000 steals and have made 1,000 three-pointers. Lowry has recorded 10+ assists in a game 118 times during his career and ranks second (3,284) on the Raptors' all-time assists list behind only Calderon (3,770).
- Pascal Siakam made a game-winning buzzer beater to help propel Toronto to a 111-109 victory Jan. 17 over Phoenix. It was the fourth game-winning buzzer-beater by a Raptor in the last 15 seasons and marked the first time at home. Prior to this, Siakam had never scored a game-tying or go-ahead basket in the final minute of game during his three-year career. In addition to scoring the winning basket, Siakam also recorded his 10th double-double of the season with a team-high 12 rebounds. Prior to this year he had never recorded a double-double. Brooklyn's Jarrett Allen leads the NBA with a +12 improvement on double-doubles.
- Serge Ibaka scored a team-high 22 points Jan. 17 vs. Phoenix and 22 points Jan. 16 at Boston. This marks the second time this season Ibaka has recorded at least 22 points in consecutive games (last: Dec. 9-11). He has never scored 22 points in three consecutive games. The last time Ibaka recorded 20 points in three consecutive games Dec. 9-12, 2018.

ADDITIONAL TEAM NOTES...

- Kawhi Leonard averaged 29.1 points during 12 games in December. He scored at least 20 points in all 12 contests, including 30-or-more five times. Leonard joined Vince Carter (five times) and DeMar DeRozan as the only players in franchise history to average 28.0 points in a calendar month with at least 10 games played.
- Toronto finished 2018 with a 35–10 record at home, tying the franchise record for most home wins in a calendar year. The Raptors also went 35–10 at home in 2014.
- The Raptors never trailed in their victory Dec. 21 vs. Cleveland. It marked the fourth time this season Toronto won a game without falling behind at any point. The Raptors had four wire-to-wire wins all of last season.
- Kawhi Leonard led the Raptors, either outright or tied, in points, rebounds, and assists in consecutive games (Dec. 16-19). Kyle Lowry is the only other player in team history to lead the team in those three categories in back-to-back games (Twice: Nov. 3–4, 2012 & Nov. 22–24, 2017).
- Kyle Lowry tied the single-season franchise record leading the team outright in assists in 22 straight games (Oct. 20 - Dec. 3). Damon Stoudamire set the record (Jan. 11 - Feb. 29, 1996) during the team's inaugural season.
- Kawhi Leonard was named Eastern Conference Player of the Week (Nov. 26 - Dec. 2). He earned the honour for the fifth time in his career. Leonard led the Raptors averaging 29.3 points and 9.0 rebounds in three wins.
- The Raptors were 12–3 in the month of November, tying the franchise record for wins in a calendar month. Toronto went 12–2 in January 2016, and 12–4 in November 2014 and March 2018.
- The Raptors' 122–83 victory Nov. 17 at Chicago was the largest margin of victory (+39) in a road game in franchise history and the largest by any NBA team in a road game this season.
- Pascal Siakam was named Eastern Conference Player of the Week for games played Nov. 5-11 after averaging a team-high 20.0 points, 4.3 rebounds and shooting .724 (21-29) from the field in three games. Siakam led the team in scoring for the first time with a career-high 23 points during Toronto's 128-112 victory Nov. 12 vs. New York. He became the eighth player in franchise history to earn player of the week honours.
- The Raptors defeated Cleveland, 116-104, in their season opener. Nick Nurse became the fifth coach in franchise history to win his first game; joining Brendan Malone (1995), Kevin O'Neill (2003), Sam Mitchell (2004) and Dwane Casey (2011).
- Kyle Lowry and Jonas Valanciunas both started their seventh opening night for the Raptors on Oct. 17 vs. Cleveland, tying them with Vince Carter for second-most in team history behind only DeMar DeRozan (9).

NICK NURSE

HEAD COACH

Nick Nurse was named the ninth head coach in Raptors history on June 14, 2018, taking on the top job after five years as an assistant coach with the organization. He has served as a head coach in the then-NBA Development League, overseas in the British Basketball League and in the collegiate ranks.

Known for his offensive flair and on-court innovation, Nurse joined the Raptors in 2013 and helped construct an offensive system that ranked among in the NBA's top 10 in three of five seasons. During the 2017-18 campaign the Raptors set franchise records for points per game (111.7) and three-pointers made (968). The Raptors coaching staff represented the Eastern Conference at the 2018 NBA All-Star Game in Los Angeles, guiding Team LeBron to a 148-145 victory over Team Stephen in the annual showdown of the league's best players.

Nurse came to the NBA after several successful years in the NBA D League - now the NBA G League - where he was the only coach to lead two different teams to the league championship. He was named head coach of the NBA G League All-Stars three times.

Nurse coached the Rio Grande Valley Vipers to a 59-41 mark over two seasons and won the 2012-13 NBA D League championship. Prior to taking the reins in Rio Grande, Nurse coached the Iowa Energy to an overall regular season mark of 124-76 (.620) and the 2010-11 NBA D-League championship. For his accomplishments, Nurse was named the 2010-11 recipient of the Denis Johnson Coach of the Year award.

Nurse led the Energy to back-to-back 37-13 finishes in 2009-10 and 2010-11, setting and then tying the league record for wins in a single season. Nurse led the Energy to two Eastern Conference championships and one Central Division championship.

A graduate of the University of Northern Iowa, Nurse began his coaching career at the age of 23 when he became the head coach of Grand View College, making him the youngest college basketball coach in the United States. He moved on to an assistant coach position at the University of South Dakota where his teams recorded a 46-14 mark.

Nurse coached in Europe for 11 years beginning in 1996, winning nine championships and two Coach of the Year awards while earning six All-Star head coach selections in the British Basketball League. During that time, he also gained coaching experience in Italy, Belgium and the USBL. Additionally, Nurse served as an assistant coach in the 2012 Olympics for the host British National Team.

Nurse holds a career professional coaching record of 459-220 (.676) during the regular season and 76-54 (.585) in the postseason.

Nurse, 51, is a native of Carroll, Iowa. He is married to Roberta, and has two sons, Noah and Leo.

NICK NURSE NAMED EASTERN CONFERENCE COACH OF THE MONTH

Nick Nurse was selected as Eastern Conference Coach of the Month for games played in October and November. He joined Dwane Casey, Sam Mitchell and Lenny Wilkens as the only coaches in franchise history to earn the honour.

Nurse led Toronto to an NBA-best 19-4 record, including a franchise-record six straight victories to start the season (Oct. 17-26). Offensively the Raptors ranked third in the NBA averaging 117.6 points and first in field goal percentage (.494). Toronto also ranked among the NBA's top-10 defensively, holding opponents to 109.9 points (ninth in the NBA) and a .445 field goal percentage (fifth in the NBA).

Highlighting the month were key victories over Atlantic Division rivals Boston and Philadelphia. The Raptors rallied from a 17-point deficit Nov. 27 at Memphis for a season-high comeback win 122-114 over the Grizzlies. Toronto then capped off the month Nov. 29 with a 131-128 overtime win against the reigning NBA champion Golden State Warriors - pushing the Raptors' winning streak to seven games (Nov. 17-29).
