WESTERN CONFERENCE SEMIFINALS, GAME 3: FRIDAY, MAY 10, 2024 - TARGET CENTER - MINNEAPOLIS, MINNESOTA

90 117

Game Recap

The Denver Nuggets were simply too determined, too experienced, too proud and too talented to let their flop in the first two games define this series against the surging Minnesota Timberwolves. This is what defending NBA champions do — quiet a raucous crowd, embrace the boos and take the momentum right back. Jamal Murray rebounded from a rough start to the Western Conference semifinals with 24 points to lead the Nuggets on a 117-90 romp Friday night in Game 3 that made the Timberwolves the last team in the NBA to lose this postseason. "It honestly just kind of makes you better because you have to respond," said Murray, who was roundly booed each time he touched the ball. "It just makes you have to lock in and be there for your teammates." Nikola Jokic, the three-time league MVP, had 24 points, 14 rebounds and nine assists, Michael Porter Jr. scored 21 points and the Nuggets sliced Minnesota's series lead to 2-1 on the strength of their 14-for-29 shooting from 3-point range. Anthony Edwards had a quiet 19 points to lead the Wolves, who went just 10 for 32 from deep even with a 4-for-5 effort from Karl-Anthony Towns. They failed to get Towns (14 points) enough shots and played slower than they did in the first two games in Denver while falling behind by as many as 34 points. "I'll take the blame for this loss. I came out with no energy at all. I can't afford to do that for my team. I let my team down, coaches down, fans down," Edwards said. "I'll be ready Sunday." The Nuggets became the 30th team in the history of the NBA playoffs to lose the first two games at home in a best-of-seven series. Five have rallied to win. "You're always testing and finding out about human nature and what guys are made of," Nuggets coach Mike Malone said. This was the step forward Denver badly needed, breaking the 100-point barrier for the first time in three games against Minnesota's NBA-best defense. "Everything was sharp. Everything was fast," Jokic said. Murray, who totaled just 25 points on 9-for-32 shooting with a minus-38 rating over the first two games, drew a $100,000 fine from the NBA for chucking a heat pack onto the floor from the bench. The stone-faced point guard thrived on a mix of spot-up jumpers and fadeaways set up by dribble-handoffs, clearly with more spring in his step after three days to rest the strained left calf muscle that has hampered him over the last few weeks. Jokic and Aaron Gordon helped initiate the offense, alleviating the ball-handling load on Murray. "His teammates freed him up, but he was aggressive and saw the ball go in early," Malone said. "I think he does kind of relish those moments where he's the bad guy." The defending champions not only brought the energy they promised would return after their no-show at home, but they hit enough of their shots to help keep the Wolves and their active rotations honest. The whistles tightened and Wolves defensive ace Jaden McDaniels was limited by foul trouble. After sweeping Phoenix and dominating Denver in the first two games, the Wolves received their first reality check after their head-turning Game 2 dominance in Denver. The "Wolves in 4!" chant that erupted right before the opening tip was quickly ditched. The Nuggets controlled the noise by creeping to a 28-20 edge after the first quarter, their largest lead of the series to date, and they didn't stop there. They were up by 20 points late in the second quarter. The Wolves got NBA Defensive Player of the Year Rudy Gobert back after he missed Game 2 for the birth of his son, but the Nuggets zipped the ball around so well outside of the paint so well that his long arms were largely a nonfactor. Gordon swished back-to-back 3-pointers and Porter hit one on the next possession midway through the third quarter to make it 72-50 and thwart another mini-Wolves rally.

WESTERN CONFERENCE SEMIFINALS, GAME 2: MONDAY, MAY 6, 2024 - BALL ARENA - DENVER, COLORADO

80 106

Game Recap

The Minnesota Timberwolves, led by Anthony Edwards and Karl-Anthony Towns, overpowered the Denver Nuggets on Monday night in a stunningly efficient 106-80 thrashing of the reigning but reeling NBA champions. "We've had some really good defensive efforts this year," Wolves coach Chris Finch said after his team took a surprising 2-0 lead in the Western Conference semifinals. "That has to be right up there with the best of them." The Wolves held Denver to an ugly 29-of-83 shooting night, and the most impressive thing about that was the absence of their best defender, 7-foot-1 center Rudy Gobert, who was back in Minneapolis for the birth of his son. Towns and Edwards both scored 27 points as the Wolves improved to 6-0 in the playoffs and gave themselves a chance to close out the fuming Nuggets with wins Friday night and Sunday in Minneapolis. So flustered were the Nuggets by the second quarter that coach Michael Malone threw a fit at an official and scuffling point guard Jamal Murray threw a heat pack onto the court in frustration as Towns was about to score on a layup. Malone said he had no idea it was Murray who tossed the heat pack, saying, "I knew a heating pack was on the floor, but it was not in my field of vision." Nor did the officials see him throw it, added crew chief Marc Davis. "We weren't aware it had come from the bench. If we would have been aware it came from the bench, we could have reviewed it under the hostile act trigger. The penalty would have been a technical foul," Davis told a pool reporter. Finch said he knew only that the heat pack had come from the Nuggets' bench. "We tried to impress upon (the officials) that there's probably not many fans in the building that have a heat pack. So, it probably had to come from the bench, which they found logical," Finch said. "But yeah, it's inexcusable and dangerous." Murray, who has shot 9 for 32 in this series, left Ball Arena without comment for the second straight game. He is likely to be fined by the NBA for his actions. Aaron Gordon led Denver with 20 points, Nikola Jokic had 16 points and 16 rebounds but their third-leading scorer was sub Justin Holliday with 13 points. Murray scored eight points on 3-of-18 shooting. Kyle Anderson replaced Gobert in the starting lineup and had eight assists and nine rebounds and reserves Naz Reid and Nickeil Alexander-Walker both scored 14. During a 43-18 first-half flourish by the Timberwolves — Edwards was on the bench for much of it, no less — the Nuggets grew so frustrated that Malone ran way out onto the court and got in Davis' face for an extended blowup during a timeout but avoided a technical. Davis explained. Frustrated by their slow starts — the Nuggets have trailed by double digits in six of their seven playoff games and by nine in the other — Malone challenged his team to get off to a strong start for once. Only Gordon heeded his coach's call, scoring 13 quick points, including a 3-pointer that brought the Nuggets to 18-17 late in the first quarter. Things unraveled for Denver after that. Trailing 61-35 at the break, the Nuggets' 26-point halftime deficit was Denver's largest in a home playoff game in franchise history. Now the Nuggets, who lost consecutive games just once during the season, find themselves needing to beat Edwards four times in five tries to advance to the Western conference finals again, a seemingly impossibility given both teams' level of play at the moment. "The message we want to send is that we're extremely honored and blessed that we have this opportunity to go home up 2-0," Towns said. "But we're humble in this approach." Edwards, for one, expects to see a different Nuggets team at Target Center this weekend. "It worked in our favor tonight, man. That's all that was," he said. "We made shots. They didn't. That's the defending champs over there. So, they're not going to come out and play like that again in Game 3."

2-0 IN FAVOR OF THE CHALLENGER
With their Game 2 win in Denver, The Timberwolves took a 2-0 series lead have now won six consecutive playoff games, the longest streak in team history. The Timberwolves previous record for most consecutive playoff wins was two. The Wolves have also tied the NBA Playoff record for most consecutive wins to start a playoff run for a three-seed, tying the 2004 San Antonio Spurs and the 2020 Boston Celtics.

Tonight marked just the second time in franchise history that the Wolves tallied 10+ steals and 10+ blocks in a playoff game.

BUILDING A LEAD A MILE HIGH
The Wolves led by as many as 32 points in Game 2 at Denver, the biggest lead in franchise playoff history.

The Timberwolves led 61-35 at halftime of Game 2, marking the largest halftime lead on the road against a defending champion since the Cleveland Cavaliers led the Chicago Bulls 59-33 in the Eastern Conference Finals on May 21, 1992.

GAME WON - ROUND TWO
With their Game 1 win in Denver on May 4, the Timberwolves have won a franchise-best five consecutive playoff games following their first-round sweep of the Phoenix Suns. The May 4 win also marked the second time in franchise history the team won a Game 1 on the road (April 16, 2022, at Memphis).

DOWN LOW DAWGZ
Minnesota outscored Denver 52-42 in the paint in their Game 1 victory in Denver. The Nuggets outscored the Timberwolves in all four of the team's regular season matchups (186-216). The Wolves have now outscored their opponents down low in four of their five playoff games this season.

THAT'S A SWEEP!
With their Game 4 win in Phoenix on April 28, the Timberwolves swept the Suns, the first time in franchise history completing a four-game sweep and the first time winning a playoff series since 2004. It is the first four-game sweep in a best-of-seven series in Minneapolis sport's history.

DOWN BUT NOT OUT
After trailing 61-56 at the half of Game 4 in Phoenix, the Timberwolves came back to win, marking the first time in franchise history they have come back to win a playoff game on the road after trailing at halftime (1-21).

DEFENSIVE DOGS
In holding the Nuggets to just 80 points in Game 2, the Timberwolves held Denver to their fewest points scored this season in either the regular or postseason. It marked the second consecutive time holding the Nuggets under 100 points and the fourth time doing so this season including regular season and playoffs. No other team held Denver under 100 points more than once.

Denver's 80 points are tied for the fourth-lowest point total for an opponent in franchise playoff history and the lowest playoff opponent point total since holding the Lakers to 71 points on May 23, 2004.

COMFORTABLE AWAY FROM HOME
With their Game 2 win in Denver, Minnesota became the 34th team in NBA history to win both Game 1 and Game 2 of a best-of-seven playoff series on the road. Of the previous 33 teams that did so, 28 went on to win the series.

Additionally, the Wolves are now the sixth Western Conference team since 2000 to win their first four road playoff games. Of the previous five teams to do so, four went on to win the NBA Finals.

DID YA'LL FORGET ABOUT OUR D?
In holding the Nuggets to 99 points, Game 1 in Denver marked the first time during the 2024 NBA Playoffs the Nuggets failed to reach 100 points. Including the regular season, the Timberwolves have now held the Nuggets under 100 points in all three of their wins against Denver this year. The Nuggets were held under 100 just eight times during the 2023-24 regular season, the Wolves were the only team to do so twice. Minnesota has held their opponents under 100 points three times during this year's playoffs.

MINNESOTA'S OFFENSE WAS FELLING HOT! HOT! HOT!
After their 122-116 win in Game 4 vs. the Suns, the Timberwolves scored 120+ points for the third time in the first round series, marking the first time in franchise history they scored 120+ points three times in a playoff series. Their 118.3 points per game average vs. the Suns are the most in any playoff series in franchise history.

The Wolves 122 points in their Game 4 win were the most in any Game 4 in franchise history and the third most in any playoff game in franchise history.

The Wolves held the Suns to just 103.3 points per game durin their first round playoff series. Minnesota's +15 point differential vs. the Suns is the best mark in franchise playoff history.

DID SOME ONE SAY SECOND HALF HOT DOGS?
The Wolves shot 71.1% (27-of-38) in the second half of Game 1 at Denver, the best field goal percentage in a half of a road playoff game since the San Antonio Spurs shot 75.8% (25-of-33) in the first half at the Miami Heat in Game 3 of the 2014 NBA Finals.

After the Timberwolves' 99-96 win over the Golden State Warriors on Mar. 26, Finch recorded his 100th career win, joining Saunders as the only two coaches in Wolves history with 100 or more victories.

On Dec. 4, 2024, the NBA named Finch Western Conference Coach of the Month for October and November after guiding the Wolves to a 14-4 record to begin the 2023-24 season. It was the first monthly honor of his coaching career, he became the third Timberwolves head coach to win the award, joining Kevin McHale (January 2009) and Flip Saunders (April 2004, February 2003, January 2001 and January 2000). Following the Wolves' Feb. 4 win vs. Houston, Finch was selected to represent the Western Conference at the 2024 NBA All-Star Game in Indianapolis, given to the team with the best record through Feb. 4 (including tiebreaker scenarios).

This marked the first time in Finch's career being named an All-Star Head Coach and the second time in Timberwolves history a head coach has been named to the All-Star Game. Flip Saunders coached the Western Conference All-Stars to a 136-132 victory at the 2004 NBA All-Star Game in Los Angeles.

The Timberwolves finished the 2023-24 campaign 56-26, the second-highest win total in franchise history. Minnesota secured the No. 3 seed in the Western Conference, marking the third consecutive year making the NBA Playoffs, the most consecutive seasons making the playoffs since eight straight appearances from 1997-2004.

During the 2022-23 season, Finch led the Timberwolves to a 42-40 record, eclipsing 40 wins on the season in back-to-back seasons (46 in 2021-22) for the first time since the 2003-04 and 2004-05 seasons. After defeating the Oklahoma City Thunder on Apr. 14 in the final NBA Play-In Tournament game, the Wolves clinched a spot in the NBA Playoffs for the second consecutive season. This marked the first time clinching back-to-back playoff appearances since a string of eight straight from 1997-2004. The team's second place finish in the Northwest Division was the highest since winning the division in 2003-04. With the team's 151-131 win over the San Antonio Spurs on Apr. 8, the Timberwolves clinched a .500 or better record this for the third time since 2004-05. The team has now done so in back-to-back seasons (.561 in 2021-22) for the first time since the 2003-04 and 2004-05 seasons. After the team's 29 wins against Western Conference foes this season and 32 such wins last season, Minnesota has won 25+ games against the West in back-to-back years for the first time since 2003-04 and 2004-05. The 11 wins in January of 2023 were the most by a Wolves team in the month of January since winning 12 games in January of 2004.

During the 2021-22 season, Finch led the Timberwolves to a 46-36 record, the seventh-best record in club history, including a trip to the Playoffs for just the second time in the last 18 years. He helped guide the Wolves to a 26-15 record at Target Center and a 32-20 record against the Western Conference, the second time since 2004-05 with 30+ wins against the West. With the 136-130 victory over the Denver Nuggets on April 1, the Wolves finished the season 12-4 against Northwest Division foes, the most division wins by the team since the division was formed in 2004 and just the third time since 2004 winning 10+ division games. Additionally, Minnesota finished the season winning 10 straight games against Northwest division opponents, the most since 2004. The team finished the 2021-22 campaign with 20 road wins for the first time since the 2004-05 season and just the fifth time winning 20+ road games.

Finch took the helm mid-season in the 2020-2021 season, leading the Timberwolves to win half of their last 22 games, finishing 16-25 overall. After the All-Star break, Finch was able to unlock another level of talent in young players such as 2020-21 NBA All-Rookie First Team honoree Anthony Edwards, as well as Jaden McDaniels. Under Finch's guidance, Edwards was named the Western Conference Rookie of the Month three times last season (March, April and May), becoming the third player in Wolves history to earn the honor multiple times (Karl-Anthony Towns in 2015-16 and Andrew Wiggins in 2014-15).

Since arriving in Minnesota, Finch has jumped into helping the Twin Cities community. He currently serves on the Board of Directors of Second Harvest Heartland where he assists the organization, playing a critical role in helping Second Harvest Heartland fulfill its mission of ending hunger.

Finch, 54, has over 25 years of NBA and G League experience, serving most recently as an assistant coach under Nick Nurse and the Toronto Raptors this season. Prior to that, he made coaching stops with the New Orleans Pelicans as associate head coach from 2017-20, the Denver Nuggets as an assistant coach from 2016-17 and the Houston Rockets as an assistant coach from 2011-16. Finch was named the head coach of the Rio Grande Valley Vipers, the Rocket's G League affiliate in 2009. He led the Vipers to back-to-back G League Finals appearances, compiling a 67-33 (.670) record in his two seasons.

After leading Rio Grande Valley to the 2010 G League Championship, Finch received the Dennis Johnson Trophy as the league's best head coach.

The Reading, Pennsylvania native played overseas in the British Basketball League (BBL) for the Sheffield Sharks from 1993-97 before coaching the same team from 1997-2003. Finch was named the BBL Coach of the Year in 1998-99. He continued to coach overseas for 12 years including in Germany and Belgium.

Finch also served as the head coach of Great Britain's National Team from 2006-13, where he led the national team in the 2012 Summer Olympics in London. He also led them to a European Championship berth in 2009 and 2011, the team's first appearances since 1981.

A Franklin & Marshall College graduate in 1992, Finch was as a two-time All-American, and was inducted into the F&M Sports Hall of Fame in 2002. He started the final 115 games of his collegiate career and compiled a 102-13 record (.887), which stood as the most career wins as a starter in NCAA Division III history.
