LAST REGULAR SEASON MATCHUP

Lakers 104, Bucks 111

December 19, 2019 – Fiserv Forum

The Lakers dropped their fifth game of the season with a 111-104 loss to Milwaukee, losing consecutive games for the first time in the 2019-20 campaign. Los Angeles scored a season-low 17 points in the first quarter, and the slow start would prove too costly as the Lakers trailed by as many as 21 points in the second quarter. Production from each team’s bench unit was particularly crucial in the matchup as the Bucks outpaced the Lakers bench in scoring, 34-4. Los Angeles was led by strong scoring efforts from Anthony Davis (36p/18a/11s), LeBron James (21p/12r/11a), Danny Green (21p/4a/1b) and Kentavious Caldwell-Pope (18p/3a/1s). Meanwhile, reigning MVP Giannis Antetokounmpo led the way for Milwaukee, scoring an opponent-season-high 34 points with 11 rebounds and seven assists to highlight five double-digit scorers for the Bucks.
The Lakers recorded their 12th double-digit comeback of the season with a 120-107 win over Philadelphia. Trailing by as many as 13 points in the first half, Los Angeles would finish the second quarter with a 37-19 advantage and an 11-point halftime lead. Anthony Davis was the story of the night with 37 points (13-19 FG), 13 rebounds, four steals and two blocks, becoming the first Lakers player to match that line since Kareem Abdul-Jabbar in 1976. LeBron James scored 22 points with 14 assists and seven rebounds, while Dwight Howard (11 points), Kentavious Caldwell-Pope (10) and Avery Bradley (10) scored in double figures for the Lakers. Glenn Robinson III led the 76ers with 25 points.

• Among bench players, he is second in the NBA in rebounds (435) and is third in blocks (75) this season

DOING THE DISHES: LeBron James recorded his 9,000th career assist with his fourth dime on 12/29 vs. Dallas, becoming the ninth player in NBA history to reach that mark in a career.
• James, already the league’s active scoring leader, is the first player in NBA history with more than 9,000 career rebounds and 9,000 assists
• He joins Oscar Robertson as the only players in history with more than 250 career point/rebound double-doubles and 250 point/assist double-doubles
• James leads the NBA in assists per game (10.7), total assists (610) and double-digit assists games (38)

ROAD SWEET ROAD: The Lakers had one of the best road winning streaks in NBA history this season, winning 14 consecutive games away from STAPLES Center from Nov. 1 to Dec. 15.
• The 14 straight wins is tied for the third-longest road streak in league history
• It marked the second-longest road streak in franchise history, finishing two wins shy of tying the franchise- and NBA-record 16-game win streak in 1971-72
• Los Angeles outscored opponents by an average of 8.7 points during the streak, the third-best margin of victory over that span

DOUBLE DOSE OF DAVIS: Anthony Davis earned his second NBA Western Conference Player of the Week honor of the season on December 9, after winning the award for the first time in 2019-20 on November 4.
• His latest weekly honor was highlighted by a team season-high 50 points (20-29 FG), seven rebounds, six assists, four steals and one block on 12/8 vs. MiN, his fourth career 50-point outing
• Davis has been named Western Conference Player of the Week seven times throughout his career
• He is the first Lakers player with at least two such selections in a single season since Kobe Bryant earned three in 2012-13

VOGEL WINS CONFERENCE’S MONTHLY COACH RECOGNITION: Los Angeles Lakers head coach Frank Vogel was named NBA Western Conference Coach of the Month for games played in October and November, becoming the first Lakers coach to win the award since Mike D’Antoni in April 2013.
• The Lakers put together an NBA-best 17-2 (.895) record in that span, tying the team’s best 19-game start in franchise history
• L.A. had a conference-leading 10-game win streak to close November and had the team’s highest single-month win total (14) since March 2000
• Vogel earned his fifth career monthly coaching honor after earning four Eastern Conference awards with the Pacers from 2010-16

REMEMBER NOVEMBER: The Lakers finished 14-1 in the month of November, the team’s highest single-month win total since March 2000 (15-1).
• It was the ninth time in team history that L.A. has reached the 14-win mark in a calendar month
• The 14 wins are the most by the team in November since 1971, when they were undefeated in the month (14-0) en route to an NBA-record 33-game win streak later that season

A BEST FOR ‘BRON: LeBron James recorded at least 10 assists in a career-high seven consecutive games from November 10-22, besting his previous double-digit assist streak of five games (twice).
• James became only the second Lakers player to have 10+ assists in seven straight games, good for the team’s best streak since Magic Johnson had a 10 game double-digit assists streak in 1990-91
• In the last 10 years, James is only the 10th player in the NBA to have 10+ assists in at least seven consecutive games
• LeBron averaged 12.1 assists and 3.0 turnovers over the stretch as the Lakers averaged an 8.0 margin of victory

FIT FOR A KING: LeBron James recorded his fifth triple-double of the season on 11/19 vs. Oklahoma City, totaling 25 points, 11 rebounds and 10 assists to become the first player in NBA history to record at least one triple-double against all 30 current NBA franchises in the regular season. Now in his 17th year and having appeared in more than 1,200 games, James’s latest feat speaks to the longevity of one of the most well-rounded careers in league history.
League-wide, Russell Westbrook has since recorded triple-doubles against 30 teams (adding OKC on 1/20), while current Lakers assistant Jason Kidd did so against 28 NBA franchises (missing BOS, BKN).

ROAD TRIPLE-(DOUBLES): The Lakers won their sixth consecutive game of the season on 11/5 at Chicago, grinding out a 118-112 victory over the Bulls. That effort was fueled in large part by LeBron James, who recorded his third consecutive triple-double with 30 points, 11 assists and 10 rebounds.
• It was his 84th triple-double in the regular season, and he currently ranks fifth in NBA history behind current Lakers assistant coach Jason Kidd (107)
• It was the third time in his career that he has recorded triple-doubles in three consecutive games (reg. season)
• James became the first Lakers player to have a triple-double in three straight games since Magic Johnson, who went on a four-game run from March 31- April 5, 1987

• The Lakers completed a season-best 15-point comeback, after trailing by that total in the second quarter

AD’s EFFICIENCY: Anthony Davis tallied 40 points and 20 rebounds in 31 minutes on 10/29 vs. Memphis, netting a franchise-record 26 free throws (26-27 FT) on the night and becoming the first player in the shot clock era (1954-55) to record a 40-20 outing in 31 minutes or less.
• Davis became the fourth player in NBA history with 26+ made free throws and was the first to do so since Michael Jordan matched that total in February 1987
• His 18 FTM in the third quarter set a new NBA record (surpassing Vince Carter’s 16 in 2005)...
• No Lakers player had ever made more than 17 in a single half
• He became just the sixth player in Lakers history with a 40-20 game, joining George Mikan, Elgin Baylor, Wilt Chamberlain, Kareem Abdul-Jabbar and Shaquille O’Neal, who had most recently accomplished the feat in March 2003

• The 28 points were the most ever by a Lakers player in their debut game with the franchise (Kareem Abdul-Jabbar, 27 points in 1975)
• He’s one of five-ever NBA players to hit seven or more three-pointers in their team’s first game of the season (joining K.Walker, 2018; R. Covington, 2017; D. Gallinari, 2009; D. Scott, 1995)

LEBRON AMONG THE NBA’S ALL-TIME SCORING LEADERS: Lakers forward LeBron James has scored 33,993 points throughout his 17-year career, ranking third on the NBA’s all-time scoring list. His most recent climb up the scoring chart took place on January 25, 2020 at Philadelphia, when James converted a driving layup in the third quarter to move to third on the league’s all-time list. A four-time NBA Most Valuable Player, James eclipsed the 32,000 scoring mark last season to join Kareem Abdul-Jabbar, Karl Malone, Kobe Bryant and Michael Jordan as the only players in league history to achieve the milestone.
