NETS QUICK HITS

PRESEASON ACTION
➢ The Nets will play their third of four preseason contests on Monday night and their final exhibition at Barclays Center before closing out the preseason against Miami. See the chart for a breakdown of the date, time and broadcast schedule for each preseason matchup.

Brooklyn will play the Sixers in the preseason for the third straight year and the Heat for the second consecutive season. The Nets and Lakers last met in the preseason prior to the 2021-22 season.

Maccabi Ra’anana competes in the Israeli National League and faced off against the Los Angeles Clippers, Oklahoma City Thunder and Portland Trail Blazers during last year’s preseason. This season, Maccabi Ra’anana will face the Cleveland Cavaliers and Minnesota Timberwolves after their meeting with the Nets.

NETS SPLIT FIRST TWO PRESEASON CONTESTS
➢ In their first matchup against an international opponent since 2019, 13 Nets recorded points, six in double figures, as Brooklyn defeated Maccabi Ra’anana, 135-103, at Barclays Center on Thursday.

In his first start in Nets uniform, Harry Giles III tallied a 16-point, 10-rebound double-double on .800 FG% (8-of-10 FG). Giles III has twice recorded a double-double and twice shot .800 FG% on 10 or more FGA in his 142-game regular season career.

Mikal Bridges drained six triples en route to a team-leading 23 points (8-of-20 FG, 6-of-13 3FG) and three rebounds over 24 minutes.

Darius Bazley (+34) grabbed a game-high 14 rebounds (four offensive), while Ben Simmons led the contest with nine assists.

Brooklyn began its four-game preseason slate in Las Vegas against the Los Angeles Lakers, falling 129-126.

Cam Thomas led the way with 26 points (9-of-14 FG, 4-of-7 3FG, 4-of-4 FT) and two assists in a team-leading 22 minutes. 17 of Thomas’ game-high 26 points came in the first 6:47 of the second half, including a stretch of three triples on three consecutive possessions.

Ben Simmons, 10 points (4-of-6 FG) and three assists, and Spencer Dinwiddie, 12 points (4-5 3FG), anchored the Nets backcourt with Simmons finishing as the team leader in assists and Dinwiddie matching the game-high four 3-pointers – all in the first half.

Lonnie Walker IV led the Nets in bench scoring with 5 points (5-of-12 FG, 3-of-4 FT) and rookie Noah Clowney snatched a game-high eight rebounds (four offensive) to go with five points, including a 3-pointer, in his first career NBA action.

VAUGHN LEADS THE WAY
➢ Jacque Vaughn enters his eighth season as a coach in the Nets organization and his first full season as head coach. He served as an assistant coach for six-plus seasons before being named head coach on Nov. 9, 2022. Vaughn has compiled a 50-35 (588) record in Brooklyn, which includes his time as head coach last season and at the end of the 2020 season (7-3 record – 5-3 during the NBA restart in the Orlando “bubble”).

Vaughn will be rejoined this season by Adam Caporn (second season), Ryan Forehan-Kelly (eighth season, fourth on the coaching staff) and Trevor Hendry (has been with the organization since 2014, second season on the coaching staff).

Joining Vaughn on the bench this season are Kevin Ollie (13-year NBA veteran and former head coach at UConn, 2012-18, and Overtime Elite, 2021-23), Will Weaver (previously spent three seasons with the Nets organization, 2016-19, and most recently served as head coach of Paris Basketball in the LNB Pro A, 2022-23), Jay Hernandez (former assistant coach with the Hornets, 2018-23, and the Magic, 2014-18) and Corey Vinson (most recently spent three seasons with the Suns organization, 2020-23).

RETURNING TO BK
➢ Nine players on the Nets current roster are returning members of last season’s squad. Nic Claxton enters his fifth season with the Nets and is the longest continuous member on the team. Spencer Dinwiddie has played the most seasons in Brooklyn as he begins his seventh season with the organization and 10th season of his NBA career.

Cam Thomas (third season), Day’Ron Sharpe (third), Royce O’Neale (second) and Ben Simmons (*second) all return to Brooklyn for another full season (*seasons played).

Dorian Finney-Smith, Mikal Bridges and Cam Johnson joined the Nets mid-year last season and return to Brooklyn for their first full season with the team.

ARRIVALS AND DEPARTURES
➢ The Nets added nine new players, including three rookies, to this year’s training camp squad (notables below). See the chart for a full list of Nets additions this preseason. (above right)

Dennis Smith Jr. – signed as a free agent after playing with Charlotte last season.

Lonnie Walker IV – signed as a free agent after playing with L.A. Lakers last season.

Rookie class – Noah Clowney (21st overall), Dariq Whitehead (22nd overall) and Jalen Wilson (51st overall) begin their Brooklyn careers after being selected in the 2023 NBA Draft. The trio marks the first Nets draft class since 2021.

Nine members of last season’s squad departed from Brooklyn.

➢ See the chart for a list of players who have left the Nets since the end of last season.

Jacque Vaughn was named head coach of the Brooklyn Nets on Nov. 9, 2022, after a stint serving as the team’s acting head coach, beginning on Nov. 1. Vaughn led the Nets to a 43-32 record (.573 winning percentage) during the 2022-23 season, highlighted by a 12-1 record in December, which represented the winningest month in franchise history. Vaughn earned Eastern Conference Coach of the Month honors for games played in December, marking the first such honor of his coaching career. The Nets won 12 straight games from Dec. 7 to Jan. 2, good for the second-longest win streak in the league in the 2022-23 campaign and the third-longest winning streak in Nets history. The 12-game win streak was part of a franchise-best 18-2 stretch that spanned from Nov. 27 to Jan. 8 which also included a season-best seven-game road win streak, marking the second-longest in franchise history. Under Vaughn’s direction, Brooklyn boasted a top-10 defense (113.0 defensive rating – 10th in the league), which, over the course of a full season, would have represented just the second time the Nets finished with a top-10 defense since the 2006-07 season. Vaughn led the Nets to the playoffs, the fifth straight season Brooklyn advanced to the postseason, before falling in the first round to the Philadelphia 76ers.

Vaughn was originally hired by Brooklyn as an assistant coach on July 5, 2016. He spent three full seasons and part of a fourth season as an assistant before taking over as the Nets’ head coach for the final 10 regular season games in the 2019-20 season, including the Nets’ eight-game stint in the Orlando Bubble. The Nets compiled a 7-3 record with Vaughn at the helm before falling to the Toronto Raptors in a first round playoff series. He then returned to his position as an assistant coach for the 2020-21 and 2021-22 seasons and ultimately assumed the role as the team’s head coach seven games into the 2022-23 season. In parts of two seasons as the head coach of the Nets, Vaughn has posted a record of 50-35 (.588 winning percentage) and has led Brooklyn to two playoff berths. As an assistant, Vaughn helped guide the Nets to an additional three playoff appearances in the 2018-19, 2020-21 and 2021-22 seasons.

Before he joined the Nets, Vaughn spent two-plus seasons (2012-15) as head coach of the Orlando Magic, beginning his tenure as the second-youngest head coach in the NBA. Vaughn compiled a record of 58-158 (.269 winning percentage) with the Magic and holds an overall head coaching record of 108-193 (.359 winning percentage). He also served as a pro scout for one season (2015-16) and assistant coach for two seasons (2010-12) with the San Antonio Spurs.

Prior to beginning his coaching career, the Los Angeles native enjoyed a 12-year playing career in the NBA after being selected with the 27th overall pick in the first round of the 1997 NBA Draft by the Utah Jazz.
