SERIES NOTES

The Nuggets and Lakers have faced off in the playoffs a total of 32 times with Denver holding a record of 8-24 in those games ... This will mark the third time the two franchises have met in the Western Conference Finals all-time with the Lakers holding a 2-0 series advantage ... Denver has won 19 of the last 27 regular season home games against Los Angeles at the Pepsi Center, dating back to the 2005-06 season ... Denver had won seven straight at LA before their last five losses, but have still only won 13 of their past 43 road games against the Lakers dating back to the 1996-97 season ... The Nuggets have won 28 of the last 40 regular season meetings against the Lakers ... On 2/20/09, the Lakers shot just .298 (28-94) FG, their second-worst FG percentage since moving to Los Angeles in 1960. On 11/13/09, the Lakers managed just 23 second half points (a record for fewest points in a half) and just eight points in the third quarter (a Nuggets record for fewest points allowed in a quarter).

NOTABLES: The Nuggets find themselves in familiar territory after their Game 4 loss to the Lakers on Thursday night, now trailing 3-1 in the Western Conference Finals. Jamal Murray and Anthony Davis put on a show in the 1st quarter as the two combined to score 26 points on 12-13 shooting from the field. Denver trailed Los Angeles 37-30 at the end of the opening period. The Lakers dominated the glass in the 2nd quarter and finished the first half with an 18-2 advantage in 2nd chance points and led the Nuggets 60-55. The 3rd quarter was a neck and neck battle as both teams shot over .500 from the field as the Nuggets used a balanced scoring attack to cut the Laker lead to 87-84 to start the 4th quarter. Monte Morris and Jamal Murray combined for 17 of the Nuggets’ 24 points in the final frame as Denver made several runs but failed to ever take the lead from the Lakers who were led down the stretch by their two superstars, Anthony Davis and LeBron James who combined for 19 of the teams 24 4th quarter points. The Nuggets fell to the Lakers 114-108. Denver will play their 7th elimination game of the 2020 playoffs on Saturday night as they will look to extend their season with a Game 5 win against Los Angeles.

GAME-CHANGERS: Jamal Murray shined once again with 32 points, 7 rebounds and 4 assists in nearly 36 minutes. LeBron James filled the stat sheet with 26 points, 9 rebounds and 8 assists.

NOTABLES: The Nuggets proved their resiliency once again Tuesday night, as they beat the Lakers… Nikola Jokic dazzled in the 1st quarter scoring 11 points, grabbing 4 boards and dishing out 2 assists. The Nuggets shot .600 from the floor and led 29-27 going into the 2nd quarter. Monte Morris came off the bench and injected the Denver offense with energy as he scored 12 points on 4-5 shooting and helped the Nuggets extend their lead to 18 points. The Lakers went on a 16-8 run to close out the first half, but the Nuggets led 63-53 at the break. The 3rd quarter belonged to Jerami Grant as the versatile forward scored 12 points in the period and the Nuggets put the Lakers in a 20-point hole, their largest deficit of the 2020 Playoffs. Nikola Jokic dazzled in the 1st quarter scoring 11 points, grabbing 4 rebounds and 9 assists in 33 minutes. Jerami Grant impressed with 26 points, 3 rebounds and 2 steals in 34 minutes. LeBron James led the Lakers with 30 points, 10 rebounds and 11 assists.

NOTABLES: The Nuggets lost in heartbreaking fashion Sunday and now trail the Lakers 2-0 in the Western Conference Finals. Denver came out strong in the 1st, but 6 Nuggets’ turnovers allowed Los Angeles to take a 29-21 lead after the opening period. Denver fell behind by 16 points but the Nuggets were able to battle back in the 2nd getting to the foul line 14 times in the period. The Nuggets trailed the Lakers 60-50 at halftime. The Lakers came out of the locker room and were able to stretch their lead back to 16 when Danny Green knocked down a 3PT shot. Denver called a timeout and flipped the switch, outsourcing the Lakers 24-12 in the remaining 8:11 of the 3rd quarter to cut the LA lead to 82-78 heading into the 4th quarter. Nikola Jokic dominated the Laker defense in the 4th scoring 12 points on 4-6 shooting from the field and 3-4 from the free-throw line. Nikola Jokic was the first star to do what he has done throughout the 2020 Playoffs, close out the game. Murray scored 10 points in the final frame including two clutch 3PT shots that sealed the victory for Denver. The Nuggets beat the Lakers 114-106 and will look to even the series at 2-2 on Thursday night in Game 4.

GAME-CHANGERS: Jamal Murray led the Nuggets with 28 points, 8 rebounds and 12 assists. Jerami Grant impressed with 26 points, 3 rebounds and 2 steals in 34 minutes. LeBron James led the Lakers with 30 points, 10 rebounds and 11 assists.

NOTABLES: The Nuggets struggled to find a rhythm Friday night as they dropped Game 1 of the Western Conference Finals to the Los Angeles Lakers. Denver looked locked in to start as they came out shooting .636 from the field in the opening frame, led by Nikola Jokic and Jamal Murray who scored 11 and 9 points respectively. Although they led 38-36 to start the 2nd quarter, the Nuggets struggled to keep the Lakers off of the free-throw line in the period as Los Angeles shot 14-24 from the charity stripe and the Nuggets went into the locker room trailing 70-59 at the break. Anthony Davis caught fire in the 3rd quarter scoring 16 points in the period as the Lakers outscored the Nuggets 20-6 in the paint and Los Angeles stretched their lead to 103-79 heading into the 4th quarter. Jerami Grant was the only starter to see the floor in the 4th quarter for the Nuggets as Denver raised the white flag. Michael Porter Jr. scored 10 points and grabbed 6 rebounds in the final frame but the damage had been done and the Nuggets dropped Game 1 to the Lakers 126-114.

GAME-CHANGERS: Nikola Jokic led the way for the Nuggets with 21 points, 6 rebounds and 2 assists in 25 minutes. Jamal Murray also scored 21 points while adding 5 assists in 29 minutes. Anthony Davis led the way for the Lakers with 37 points, 10 rebounds and 4 assists in 33 minutes.

DENVER GETS GAME THREE
In an almost must-win scenario, the Nuggets were able to get out to an early lead in game three and never looked back as they defeated the Lakers 114-106 to jump back into the series. Denver saw three 20-point scorers in a game for the first time in a game this postseason, Jamal Murray was phenomenal all night as he finished with 28 points (10-17 FG’s), a playoff career-high 12 assists, eight rebounds and two steals in 44 minutes. Jerami Grant had his best game of the postseason, as he posted a playoff career-high 26 points (7-11 FG’s, 10-12 FT’s), three rebounds, two steals and one assist in 34 minutes.

Murray becomes the first player since 2016 (Westbrook) and just the fourth ever to post a line of 28+ points, 12+ assists and 8+ rebounds in a Western Conference Finals game. The Blue Arrow has also proved to be a closer this postseason, in clutch time (last two minutes of a game with a five-point difference or less) he is shooting 63.6% from the field and 80.0% from three (min. 5 FGA).

NUGGETS LOOK TO BOUNCE BACK AGAIN
Denver did everything they could to pull out a game two victory over the Lakers on 9/20, but Anthony Davis ruined the Nuggets hopes, draining a game winning three as time expired. The Nuggets aren’t in unfamiliar territory as they have trailed by two games in every series this postseason. Nikola Jokic was fantastic all game and finished with a team-high 30 points (9-20 FG’s, 11-12 FT’s), nine assists, six rebounds and two steals in 39 minutes. Jokic now has six playoff games in his career with at least 30 points, five rebounds and five assists, tying him with Alex English for the most in playoff franchise history.

WESTERN CONFERENCE FINALS BOUND
It’s been 11 years since the Nuggets last saw the Western Conference Finals stage and they are happy to be back. It marks the fourth time in franchise history that Denver has advanced to the WCF, and the third time they have faced off against the Los Angeles Lakers in the final series before the NBA Championship. The Lakers hold a 2-0 lead in those series. Denver will look to move on the NBA finals for the first time in franchise history.

MAKING HISTORY IN GAME 7
The Nuggets were able to pull off the improbable, defeating the Los Angeles Clippers 104-89 in game seven on 9/15 to win the series, advancing to the Western Conference Finals for the first time since 2009. It was the sixth straight win in an elimination game for Denver and they came back from 3-1 deficit AGAIN, now the second straight series in which they won when trailing 3-1, something that had only been done 11 times in NBA history before this season. Nikola Jokic and Jamal Murray led the way as they were under control the entire game. Murray finished with 40 points (15-26 FG’s, 6-13 3FG’s), five assists and four rebounds in 45 minutes and the Joker posted his fifth career playoff triple-double and second in a game seven with 16 points (5-13 FG’s), a playoff career-high 22 rebounds, 13 assists and two steals in 40 minutes. Here are a few historical notes from the night:

- Murray’s 9 made field goals in the second quarter were the most in a quarter in a game seven in NBA history.
- Murray became the second youngest player in NBA history with 40+ points in a game seven (James).
- Jokic joins Kevin Garnett and Tim Duncan as the only players with a 20-rebound triple-double in playoff history since the NBA-ABA merger.
- The last player to post 16 points, 22 rebounds and 13 assists in playoff game was Will Chamberlain.

ANOTHER SERIES, ANOTHER GAME 7
It wouldn’t be a Nuggets playoff series without drama, and once again the mile-high crew finds themselves in a win or go home scenario after a thrilling 111-98 victory in game six. The Joker was all world, finishing with 34 points (13-22 FG’s, 4-6 3FG’s), 14 rebounds and seven assists in 45 minutes. Nikola has been nothing but spectacular these playoffs when Denver faces going home, in five games Jokic is averaging 27.8 points, 10.4 rebounds and 5.8 assists while shooting 55% from the field and 54% from three-point range. Denver has now forced game seven when trailing 3-1 for the second consecutive series. Before this season the Nuggets were only able to get to a game seven in that same scenario a total of two times in franchise history. Overall, the Nuggets continue to make history:

- First team in NBA history to play a game seven in four straight series.
- First time since play-by-play began in 1997 with three 15-point comebacks facing elimination in a single season.
- Fifth time to win five elimination games in a single playoff.

REFUSING TO LEAVE THE BUBBLE
For the fourth time this postseason, the Nuggets had their back against the wall, facing elimination in game five against the Clippers on 9/11. Denver was down 16 early in the third quarter, however the vet Paul Millsap kept them afloat, scoring 14 points in the quarter. It tied the most points Millsap scored in any quarter ALL SEASON and they trailed by seven heading into the fourth. Michael Porter Jr. cashed a three with a minute left allowing the Nuggets to live to see another day, winning 111-105. Dating back to the regular season they were just 3-16 in games when trailing by seven or more heading into the fourth.

The Nuggets are now 5-0 facing elimination and as a team, the Nuggets have locked down defensively in elimination games, allowing 99.0 points and 43.2% shooting from the field to their opponent.

WIRE-TO-WIRE TO EVEN SERIES AT 1-1
After dropping game one, Denver came out of the gates with energy and jumped all over the Clippers. The Nuggets would lead by as many as 23 early in first quarter and never looked back, in fact, they never lost their lead, winning wire-to-wire taking down the Clippers 110-101.

Both Nikola Jokic and Jamal Murray paced Denver in the first half, Murray scored 20 points and had four assists while Jokić posted a double-double with 24 points and 10 rebounds, making it the first time the duo each scored 20+ points in a half. Overall Jokic finished with 26 points and 18 rebounds while Murray poured in 27 points and six dimes. Jokić has now tied Dan Issel for the most 20 point/10 rebound games in postseason franchise history with 13.

DENVER TAKES GAME 7
The Nuggets escaped elimination and advanced to the next round of the 2020 playoffs as they defeated the Utah Jazz 80-78, winning their first round series 4-3. Denver joined elite company as they became just the 12th team in NBA history to come back from a 3-1 deficit to win a series. It also marks the first time since 1985 and 1986 that the Nuggets secured a postseason series win in consecutive years. The defense was the story of the night as they held the Jazz to just 36 first half points and two quarters under 20 in the game.

Nikola Jokic once again carried the Nuggets down the stretch and throughout the game, when Denver hit an offensive lull in the second half, the big man lifted them up scoring 21 of the Nuggets 30 second half points and hitting the game winning FG with 28 seconds left. He finished with a game-high 30 points (12-23 FG’s) 14 rebounds and four assists in 39 minutes.
MURRAY’S HISTORIC NIGHT
Jamal Murray has been nothing short of historic over the last three games as he has kept the Nuggets season alive. The 23-year-old followed up his 42-point game six performance with arguably the best postseason game in franchise history. He finished with 50 points on 17-24 FG’s and 9-12 3FG’s, six assists and five rebounds in 43 minutes saving the Nuggets from elimination. Murray has shown his greatness over the last three games:

- Set the franchise record for most points in a series (previously 190, Jokić – 2019).
- First player since Allen Iverson in 2001 to record three straight 40+ point playoff games.
- Has scored 142 points over his last three games. Per Elias, only two players in NBA history have scored more points over a three-game span in NBA history (J. West – 1965, M. Jordan – 1988).

NUGGETS STAY ALIVE, FORCE GAME 6
In a must win game five vs. Utah on 8/25, the Nuggets found themselves in a hole, down 15 in the third quarter. With their season on the line, Jamal Murray stepped up and took the game over in the second half to help will the team to an 117-107 victory. Murray who had nine points at halftime, scored 17 points in the third quarter and 16 in the fourth including clutch shot after clutch shot down the stretch. He finished with a game-high 42 points (17-26 FG’s, 4-8 3FG’s), eight rebounds, eight assists and one steal in 41 minutes.

Murray joins Nikola Jokić (4/25/19 @ San Antonio), as the only Nuggets players to record 40+ points, 8+ rebounds and 8+ assists in a playoff game. Murray has showed out in his last two games, posting 92 points, 19 rebounds, 15 assists and zero turnovers in 84 minutes.

JAMAL SHINES IN GAME 3 LOSS
Jamal Murray did everything in his power to carry the Nuggets in game three as they fell short as the game came down to the wire. Murray posted a playoff career-high 50 points (18-31 FG’s, 9-15 3FG’s), 11 rebounds, seven assists and one block in 43 minutes. Murray became the first player in Nuggets history to hit 50 points in a playoff game. As well, he became the first player in NBA history to record 50+ points, 10+ rebounds and six three-point field goals in a playoff game. Donovan Mitchell also recorded 50 points in the game, marking the first time in NBA playoff history that players from opposing teams each scored 50 points.

NUGGETS TAKE ONE
The Nuggets and Jazz officially kicked off the 2020 NBA Playoff, beginning postseason play with a bang. In a back and forth game, Denver was able to escape with a win in overtime defeating Utah 135-125. The Nuggets were red hot from three in the game, connecting on 11 in the first half, the most in franchise history for any half in a playoff game. Denver finished going 22-41 (53.7%) from long distance, also marking a franchise best for most three’s in a postseason game.

Jamal Murray took the game over late in the fourth and in overtime, he finished with a playoff career-high 36 points (13-20 FG’s), nine assists, four rebounds and only three turnovers in 40 minutes. Nikola Jokić was the Robin to Jamal’s Batman, as Nikola stuffed the stat sheet with 29 points, 10 rebounds, three assists, two steals and one block in 42 minutes. Jokić has appeared in 16 career playoff games and has posted 20+ points and 10+ rebounds in 11 games – the second most in franchise history.

BACK-TO-BACK PLAYOFFS
The Denver Nuggets are back in the playoffs in consecutive seasons for the first time since doing so in 2012 and 2013. After entering last year’s postseason with a tag of “young and unexperienced” the Nuggets quickly shed that title, leaving with valuable experience in what was many players first ever postseason action.

Denver defeated the San Antonio Spurs in seven games in the first round and then took the Portland Trail Blazers to the brink before losing in seven games. Nikola Jokić will look to pick up right where he left off last playoffs, the big man averaged 25.1 points, a league leading 13.9 rebounds and 8.4 assists while shooting 50.6% in 39.8 minutes per game. He also added four triple-doubles and seven games of scoring 25+ points. Jamal Murray also had a breakout postseason in 2019, he is a critical piece to the Nuggets success, last season he scored 20+ points in eight playoff games (two 30+ point games) with Denver’s record 6-2 in those games.

NUGGETS DRAW UTAH
The #3 seeded Nuggets meet the #6 seeded Utah Jazz for the fifth time in postseason history with Denver looking to snap a two series losing streak to the Jazz. Denver enters the playoffs in consecutive years for the first time since doing so in 2012 and 2013. It has been a decade since the Nuggets and Jazz matched up in postseason play, they last met in 2010 with Utah winning the series 4-2.

The Nuggets and Jazz have seen each other in the playoffs a total of four times in franchise history prior to this season, with Utah holding a 3-1 lead in series victories. The Nuggets hold an overall record of 11-12. Looking back, Denver won their last series against Utah in 1985, winning 4-1 in the second round, advancing to the Western Conference Finals.

CLINCHING THE NORTHWEST
The Nuggets officially reached one of the goals set in October by winning back-to-back division titles for the first time since the 2008-09 and 2009-10 seasons. Despite the hiatus in the middle of March, Denver managed to win 46 games with a .630-win percentage, also going 12-2 against the Northwest Division. As one of the most competitive divisions in the NBA, the Northwest rarely sees back-to-back champs, it marks just the first time since the Oklahoma City Thunder in 2012-13 and 2014-15 there was a repeat winner.

MURRAY IS BACK
After missing the first four games in the NBA bubble to left hamstring tightness, Jamal Murray made his much-anticipated debut vs. UTA on 8/8. In 39 minutes, Murray posted 23 points (10-25 FG’s), a career-high 12 rebounds, eight assists and one block including two clutch lay-ups down the stretch. It marked his first career game recording at least 20 points, 10 rebounds and five assists. When Murray is scoring it usually means success for Denver, he has scored 20+ points in 25 games with the Nuggets going 17-8.

MPJ DAZZLING
Michael Porter Jr. waited patiently to make an impact to start the season, the 21-year-old has stepped into the Nuggets rotation in the bubble and impressed. He posted a career-high 37 points (12-16 FG, 4-6 3FG), 12 rebounds and one steal in 44 minutes as Denver beat Oklahoma City 121-113 on 8/3. He then followed up that game, with 30 points on 11-19 shooting, a career-high 15 rebounds and one block in 36 minutes at SAS on 8/5. The back-to-back performances were one of the best stretches by a rookie in Nuggets history, as no rookie has scored more than 67 points in a two-game stretch. He is also the first rookie since Blake Griffin in 2011 with consecutive games of 30+ points and 10+ rebounds.
OWNING THE NORTHWEST
Denver defeated the Utah Jazz in double OT 134-132 in Orlando on 8/8, moving their record to 3-0 against the Jazz this season. The Nuggets record now stands at 12-2 against the Northwest this season and since the start of the 2018-19 season Denver is 24-6 against their division – best in the NBA.

2020 NBA RESTART DISNEY WORLD ORLANDO
It’s been 143 days since the last time the Denver Nuggets took an NBA court, and after the long delay, the time for basketball to return has finally come. Denver enters Saturday’s game against Miami with the third seed in the Western Conference. After playing three scrimmage games with a very limited roster, the Nuggets finished with a 1-2 in the tune-up games. Denver will look to secure a top four seed with the remaining eight seeding games to lock up back-to-back playoff berths for the first time since doing so in 2012 and 2013.

FOUNTAIN OF YOUTH
At the age of 35, Paul Millsap continues to be more than advertised for the Nuggets. In a much-needed home win that saw Denver sweep the season series against Milwaukee on 3/9, Millsap posted 20 points (8-15 FG, 3-6 3FG) and 10 rebounds in 21 minutes for his first game of the year with 20+ points and 10+ rebounds and his fifth double-double. He became the only player in the NBA this season with 20+ points and 10+ rebounds in 21 minutes or less. It also marked the seventh game of the year he has made 3+ threes with the Nuggets going 6-1 in those games. In his 14th season Millsap has been the Nuggets most consistent three-point shooter, shooting a career-high 43.9% (50-114) from deep.

GATHERING THE ROAD WINS
The Nuggets are notorious for having a great homecourt advantage but so far this season they have been racking up wins away from Pepsi Center. After Jamal Murray drained a clutch bucket with less than five seconds remaining, the Nuggets took down the Charlotte Hornets 114-112 on the road on 3/5. The Nuggets now hold a 18-14 road record overall, including going 12-8 against Western Conference teams. Their 18 wins this season mark the most through 31 road games in NBA franchise history and they are just four wins off tying the franchise record of 22 road victories done in 2006-07.

DENVER DOWNS THE CHAMPS
After suffering their largest loss of the season two days prior to the Clippers, the Nuggets bounced back, taking down the Toronto Raptors 133-118 at home. Denver led the entire way, making it their fourth wire-to-wire win this season, their offense was flowing as well, as they shot 56.6% from the field making it their third best FG% of the year (all coming since 2/23).

They also put up 100 points in three quarters and history confirms that’s a winning number, Denver has won 31 straight games and has gone 70-1 in their last 71 games when scoring 100 points through three quarters.

GRANT GOES OFF
The Nuggets were able to keep their winning ways at Pepsi Center, as they took down the Detroit Pistons 115-98 on 2/25. Denver improved to 40-18 overall and 23-7 at Pepsi Center and have their best record in franchise history through 58 games. Jerami Grant had his best game as a Denver Nugget and arguably of his career. He posted a career-high 29 points (12-15 FG, 3-5 3FG) and four rebounds in 29 minutes off the bench.

Grant’s 29 points were the most by a Denver reserve since Will Barton had 37 vs. CHI on 11/30/17 and he is the first Nugget with 29+ points and 4+ rebounds off the bench since Barton did it vs. LAC on 3/16/17. Grant also made a career-high 12 field goals, eclipsing the 11 he had last season @ MIL on 4/10/19 with OKC.

MURRAY’S MOMENTUM
Since missing 10 games due to injury at the end of January, Jamal Murray went on one of the best stretches of his career. He returned to action on 2/4 vs. POR and helped the Nuggets to an 8-4 record in the next 13 games. Murray averaged 22.2 points, 5.4 assists and 3.2 rebounds while shooting 50.8% from the field and 39.5% from three in 34.8 minutes per game. In that span, Murray scored 20+ points in seven games (three games of 30+ points), made at least 11 field goals in four games and has eight games dishing out 4 or more assists. He also recorded his first career 30+ point, 10+ assist game vs. LAL on 2/12, finishing with 32 points and 10 assists in 44 minutes.

JOKIĆ LEADS THE SEVEN
On the second night of a back-to-back, with multiple injuries, the Nuggets played just seven players in UTA on 2/5. Thanks to Jamal Murray’s 31 points and Nikola Jokić’s career night of 30 points, a career-high tying 21 rebounds and 10 assists, the Nuggets won 98-95, their eighth straight win on the second night of a back-to-back. Jokić became just the second player (DeMarcus Cousins) in the NBA since 1976-77 to record 30+ points, 21+ rebounds and 10+ assists.

HISTORY IN MILWAUKEE
On their second night of back-to-back after arriving around 4:30am in Milwaukee, the Nuggets had a quick turnaround and were able to take down the Bucks 127-115 on 1/31. It was an all-around team effort as all nine players who entered the game scored at least 10 points. It was a historic night for Denver:

- First time in NBA history that nine players scored in double-figures and all made at least one three-point field goal.
- 22 made three-point field goals are the second most in Nuggets NBA history for a road game.
- Jerami Grant finished with seven blocks, the most blocks for a Nuggets player since Chris Andersen on 4/8/2009.

YEAR AFTER YEAR IMPROVEMENT
Denver has seen consistent improvement since Head Coach Michael Malone took over prior to the 2015-16 season. Since then, the Nuggets have improved on their win total by a total of 24 wins (+3 after first season, +7 after second, +6 after third and +8 in fourth). Denver is the only team in the NBA to increase their win total in each of the last four seasons.

MR. CONSISTENT
Despite the Game 2 loss to the Utah Jazz, Nikola Jokić finished with 28 points (10-21 FG’s, 7-10 FT’s), 11 rebounds and six assists in 32 minutes. Dating back to last year’s playoffs, Jokić now has seven straight games of at least 20 points and 10 rebounds. It is by far the longest streak in Nuggets franchise playoff history, the next closest run of those numbers belongs to Carmelo Anthony who did so in three straight playoff games during the 2010 campaign.

CLUTCH GENE
The Joker has been nothing but clutch this season for the Nuggets as he has been the main reason why Denver is 11-3 in games decided by four points or less. In clutch time, which is defined as the last five minutes of any game in which the two teams are separated by five points or less, Jokić has made a total of 165 minutes (4th in the NBA) and has 148 points while shooting 52-102 from the field, 6-21 from three-point range, grabbing 51 rebounds and dishing out 27 assists.

- Jokić leads the NBA with four game winners this season (11/8 vs. PHI, 11/10 at MIN, 1/8 at DAL, 2/5 at UTA) and became the first player in the NBA since 2013 (Damian Lillard) to hit a game winning shot in consecutive games.
- Jokić has made six game winning field goals with less than 10 seconds remaining in the fourth quarter or overtime over the last two seasons, most in the NBA. Paul George is second with four.

DROPPING DIMES LIKE A GUARD
Nikola Jokić is the best passing big man in the NBA and his skills have been on full display in the NBA bubble. Joker has dished at least 10 assists in four of the last six games, including tying a season-high 13 vs. Los Angeles Clipper on 8/12. He now has 20 games this season with at least 10 dimes, ranking him 5th in the NBA. All-time, Jokić is rapidly closing in on Witt Chamberlain for most games with 10+ assists by a center in NBA history.

CLOSING IN ON FAT
The Joker has once again put together one of the finest seasons in Nuggets franchise history. With his 13th triple-double against the Oklahoma City Thunder on 8/3, Jokić surpassed his total from last season and is second in Nuggets NBA franchise history for most triple doubles in a season.

30-POINT TRIPLE DOUBLES
In a huge performance against the Oklahoma City Thunder on 8/3, the Joker posted 30 points (10-21 FG’s, 10-11 FT’s) 12 rebounds, 10 assists and two steals in 39 minutes. Jokić now has seven career triple-doubles while scoring at least 30 points, joining some of the top centers in NBA history.

JOKER SITS 10TH ALL-TIME
With another all-round performance against the Oklahoma City Thunder on 8/3. The big man finished with 30 points, 12 rebounds and 10 assists in 39 minutes for his 13th triple-double of the season and 40th of his career. Jokić’s 13 triple-doubles this season are tied for the second most in the NBA (Doncic, 15, James, 13). He now sits alone in 10th place trailing Fat Lever for ninth all-time.

WEEK OF JOKIĆ
The Joker had an all-around week for the Nuggets, winning the NBA Western Conference Player of the Week award for the sixth time in his career. In three games from 2/3-2/9, he averaged 27.3 points, 14.3 rebounds, 8.3 assists, 2.00 blocks and 1.67 steals while also shooting .621 from the field and .846 from the charity stripe. The Serbian center helped lead the Nuggets to a 3-0 record, including back to back wins over Northwest division rivals Portland and Utah. Jokić became just the ninth player in NBA history to post a 30-point/20-rebound/10-assist triple double in the win at Utah and is just the second player since the 1976-77 season to tally 31 points, 21 rebounds and 10 assists in a game. Additionally, it was his 11th triple-double of the year (tied for 2nd in NBA) and 39th of his career (10th All-Time).

THE JOKER’S CAREER NIGHT
Coming off a tough road loss the Nuggets headed to Atlanta to take on the Hawks on 1/6 and they got a much-needed win behind a career night from Nikola Jokić. The big man was great as he opened the game scoring 18 points in the first quarter and never looked back. He finished with a career-high 47 points (16-25 FG’s, 4-8 3FG’s, 11-16 FT’s), eight rebounds, five assists, two steals and zero turnovers in 36 minutes. It was a historic and career night all around for the Joker:

- Only Kiki Vandeweghe scored more points in less minutes in franchise history (50 points in 34 minutes at SAS on 11/11/84).
- The 47 points were the 14th most points scored in franchise history and only the fifth time it has happened on the road (Abdul-Rauf – 51 at UTA on 12/7/95).
- Marked his fourth career game with 40+ points, 5+ rebounds and 5+ assists, since 1976-77 only two Nuggets players have more such games
- Alex English (11) and Carmelo Anthony (5).
- Became the third center in NBA history and first since 1987 to score at least 45 points without committing a turnover (M. Malone 4/8/97, S.O’Neal 11/9/94).

THIRD FASTEST TO 35
In his fifth NBA season, Nikola Jokić has reached an achievement few have accomplished before. He recorded his 35th career triple-double in a home win against the Memphis Grizzlies on 12/28. The triple-double came in Jokić’s 339th career game making him the third fastest player in NBA history to reach 35 career triple-doubles behind Oscar Robertson and Magic Johnson.

Jamal Murray finished with 32 points (12-20 FG’s, 8-8 FT’s), eight assists, three rebounds and one block in 45 minutes in a game four loss vs. LAL on 9/24 … Murray has now scored 20+ points in seven straight games, it is the longest streak since Carmelo Anthony did it in 12 straight games during the 2009 postseason.

Jamal Murray posted 28 points (10-17 FG’s), a playoff career-high 12 assists, eight rebounds and two steals in 44 minutes in a game three win on 9/22 … Murray becomes the first player since 2016 (Westbrook) and just the fourth ever to post a line of 28+ points, 12+ assists and 8+ rebounds in a Western Conference Finals game.

Total Injury/Allness Only: 159
Overall Record: 258-249 Record w/ Denver: 219-182 (5th season)
Playoff Record: 16-16

Michael Malone enters his fifth season as head coach of the Denver Nuggets. He was named the 16th head coach in Denver’s NBA franchise history on June 15, 2015 and currently ranks fourth all-time amongst Nuggets head coaches with 219 wins.

Last season saw Coach Malone lead the Nuggets to a 54-28 record, as they captured the Northwest Division for the first time since the 2009-10 season and clinched their first playoff berth since 2013. It was tied for the second most wins in franchise history and the fourth time Denver has ever won 54+ games in a season. Denver also clinched the second seed in the Western Conference playoffs for the first time since 2009 and won their first playoff series in 10 years. The historic season didn’t go unnoticed as Malone was one of three coaches nominated for NBA Coach of the Year by a global panel of sportswriters.

Denver posted the third best winning percentage in NBA history on the second night of back-to-back’s (12-1, .923), finished with the best home record in the NBA at 34-7 and paced the league in both fourth quarter defense and opponent three-point field goal percentage during the 2018-19 season. As well, the Nuggets held the best record in the Western Conference at the All-Star break, resulting in Coach Malone and his staff being selected to coach Team LeBron at the 2019 NBA All-Star game in Charlotte, NC, defeating Team Giannis 178-164.

Since Malone has taken over prior to the 2015-16 season, the Nuggets have improved on their win total by a total of 24 wins (+3 after first season, +7 after second, +6 after third and +8 in fourth). Denver is the only team in the NBA to increase their win total in each of the last four seasons.

Malone possesses over 22 years of coaching experience, 18 coming in the NBA with six different teams – New York, Cleveland, New Orleans, Golden State, Sacramento and Denver. The teams that Malone has been a member of the coaching staff have amassed 10 playoff appearances, including one NBA Finals showing and two conference finals appearances.

Before joining the Nuggets, Malone served as the head coach of the Sacramento Kings for two seasons. Before his time with the Kings, Malone was the lead assistant for the Golden State Warriors under Mark Jackson from 2011-13 where they clinched a postseason berth in 2013, their first since 2007.

Prior to Golden State, Malone worked as the lead assistant to Monty Williams in New Orleans and helped the Hornets achieve a 46-36 record and a trip to the 2011 NBA Playoffs. The Hornets were the most improved defensive team in the NBA in 2011, allowing a league-best 8.7 fewer points per game than in the previous campaign (94.0 ppg, after giving up 102.7 ppg in 2009-10).

Malone also served as an assistant coach under Mike Brown for the Cleveland Cavaliers for five seasons, during which the Cavs posted a 272-138 (.663) record, the third-best mark in the NBA over that span. The Cavaliers made five consecutive playoff appearances during Malone’s time on the bench, reaching the NBA Finals in 2007 and the Eastern Conference Finals in 2009. In 2008-09, the Cavs notched a franchise record and NBA-best 66 wins, with Malone and the rest of the team’s staff earning the right to coach the Eastern Conference All-Star squad. In 2009-10, the Cavaliers again captured the league’s best regular season record with 61 wins.

Malone’s NBA coaching career began with a four-season stint with the New York Knicks, where he originally joined Jeff Van Gundy’s staff as a coaching associate in the summer of 2001, and was promoted to assistant coach in May 2003.

Before joining the NBA, Malone coached seven years in the college ranks, with his last stop coming at Manhattan College where he was the lead assistant. During the 1998-99 season Malone worked at the University of Virginia as its director of men’s basketball administration. Malone also spent three seasons (1995-96 – 1997-98) at Providence College under New York Basketball Hall of Fame coach Pete Gillen after beginning his coaching career working for Greg Kampe at Oakland University in Michigan.

Malone is a three-time participant in the NBA’s “Basketball Without Borders” program, having coached at the league’s global outreach camps in Africa (2017), Puerto Rico (2006) and Argentina (2005). In 2017 Malone traveled to Johannesburg, South Africa where he spent a week coaching at the BWB camps and then served as an assistant coach for Team Africa, for the NBA Africa Game 2017.

Malone also served as an assistant coach for the Canadian Men’s Senior National Team for three years. He helped guide the Canadian team to a top-four finish in the 2009 FIBA Americas Championship in Puerto Rico, qualifying Canada for the 2010 World Championships.

A native of Queens, New York, Malone played college basketball at Loyola College in Maryland, where he graduated with a BA degree in 1994. He is a graduate of New Jersey’s Seton Hall Prep where he played two years under Bob Farrell. Malone also played a season under Tom Blackburn at Worcester Academy (Mass.).

Michael is the son of longtime NBA coach Brendan Malone, who has coached over 28 years in the league.

He and his wife, Jocelyn, have two daughters, Caitlin and Bridget.
