OKLAHOMA CITY THUNDER NOTES

Getting Defensive: During the 2020-21 season, the Thunder contested the second-most shots per game in the league (58.8). Oklahoma City held opponents to the fifth-fewest free throw attempts per game (19.8) while grabbing the fifth-most rebounds per contest (45.6).

That's a Tall Order: On 5/11 at Sacramento, Oklahoma City's starting five measured a combined 408 inches tall, which is good for the tallest starting lineup in Thunder history (Bazley, Brown, Pokuševski, Roby, Williams). The previous record was 406 inches on both 5/9/21 (Bazley, Brown, Maledon, Pokuševski, Roby) and 4/17/13 (Ibaka, Jones, Sefoloshia, Thabeet, Westbrook).

Hit the Deck: In his first four NBA games, Gabriel Deck increased his career high in scoring (2, 8, 11, 16), making him just the second Thunder player and first Oklahoma City rookie to do so in his first four games with the team (Walters, 2015). On 5/4 vs. Sacramento, he produced 16 points, three rebounds and three assists, shooting 5-for-7 from the field, 1-for-1 from three-point range and 5-for-6 from the charity stripe.

Dort Knox: Luguentz Dort led all NBA players this season in offensive fouls drawn with 57 on the season. He sat well ahead of Garrison Matthews and Kyle Lowry who have 43 and 39, respectively.

Three Dimensional: Mike Muscala hit at least one three in 30 of 35 games he has played in of the 2020-21 campaign and Luguentz Dort hit one in 46 of his 52 appearances as well. Dort led the team with 113 makes from beyond the arc while Théo Maledon and Svi Mykhailiuk were right behind him with 105 threes apiece. On 5/2 vs. Phoenix, Maledon passed Alex Abrines for the most threes by a Thunder rookie (Abrines had 94, Harden had 93).

Gotta Swat 'Em All: Thunder rookie Aleksej Pokuševski swatted a block in 24 of his 45 appearances this season, averaging 0.93 per game, which ranked as the third-most among all rookies this season. He ranked second on the Thunder with 42 swats on the season, just behind Moses Brown's 47. On 4/18 at Toronto, he blocked a career-leading and Thunder rookie record six shots.

Dynamic Duo: On 4/7 vs. Charlotte, rookies Théo Maledon and Aleksej Pokuševski led the Thunder as they became the first pair of rookie teammates to each score 25+ points in a game since Tristan Thompson and Kyrie Irving in 2012. Maledon poured in 25 points, five rebounds, five assists and two blocks while Pokuševski matched his 25 points thanks to a Thunder rookie record seven three-pointers and added nine rebounds and four assists.

Unbe(Lu)vable Performances: In seven games from April 10-29, Luguentz Dort led the Thunder by averaging 24.4 points (first), 5.3 rebounds (fifth), 1.7 assists and 1.29 steals (first) while shooting 46.3 percent (25-54) from three-point range (first).

Bolstering the Bench: Oklahoma City reserves tallied a total of 2,771 points this season, good for the ninth-most in the NBA this season. Kenrich Williams led the Thunder bench efforts with his 386 points as a reserve this season.

Draft Horse: After executing an NBA record 11 trades with 15 other NBA teams during the 2020 offseason and three more prior to the trade deadline, the Thunder now holds 18 first-round draft picks over the next seven years in addition to 16 second-round picks. Also, OKC can swap the least favorable of its own 2021 1st and Miami's 2021 1st with Houston's 2021 1st (protected 1-4), its own 2023 1st with LA Clippers' 2023 1st (unprotected), its own 2025 1st with LA Clippers' 2025 1st (unprotected), and its own 2025 1st with Houston's 2025 1st (protected 1-10). OKLAHOMA CITY THUNDER NOTES

The Future Rooks Bright: On 4/2 vs. Phoenix, Théo Maledon led all scorers as he went off for a career-high 33 points, five rebounds and three assists, shooting 10-of-18 from the floor, 5-of-7 from three-point range and 8-of-10 from the free throw line. Fellow rookie Aleksej Pokuševski shot 4-for-6 from three to log 20 points, five rebounds and a team-best four assists, making him and Maledon the first pair of teammates under 20 to each score 20+ in the same game in NBA history.

You Know What They Aleksej: On 4/18 at Toronto, Aleksej Pokuševski registered eight points, seven rebounds, five assists and an Oklahoma City rookie record six blocks (Ibaka had five in 2010), making him the first NBA rookie since LeBron James in 2004 to record 5+ points, 5+ rebounds, 5+ assists and 5+ blocks in a single game.

There's Mo Where That Came From: On 3/27 vs. Boston, Moses Brown poured in his fourth double-double of the season with a career-high 21-point and career-best 23-rebound night against Boston on March 27. This not only gave him the second-fastest double-double (8:11) and the most rebounds before the break in Thunder history (19), but also made him the first NBA player since Shaquille O'Neal in 1998 with 17-plus points and 19-plus rebounds before halftime. He is just the sixth Thunder player and second OKC sophomore to produce a 20/20 game (Adams, Gilgeous-Alexander, Ibaka, Kanter, Westbrook).

Nice to Meet Youth: In the win over Houston on 3/21, the Thunder began the game with the youngest starting five in Thunder history with Moses Brown (21 years, 159 days), Luguentz Dort (21 years, 336 days), Théo Maledon (19 years, 282 days), Aleksej Pokuševski (19 years, 85 days) and Isaiah Roby (23 years, 46 days). With an average age of 21 years and 36 days, the 2020-21 Thunder produced the youngest starting five in NBA history to earn a win (only the 2016-17 Suns presented a younger starting five but did not earn a win). Then on 4/10 vs. Philadelphia, with starters Darius Bazley (20 years, 302 days), Brown, Dort, Maledon and Pokuševski, the OKC starters averaged 20 years, eight months and six days, the youngest such group in NBA history.

Need I Shai More: Shai Gilgeous-Alexander averaged 23.7 points per game on 50.8 percent shooting after setting a new career high with 42 points on a career-best six three-pointers in the win over San Antonio on 2/24. This makes him just the fourth third-year player in the last 20 years to average 22+ points on 50+ percent shooting, joining Amar'e Stoudemire (2004-05), Chris Bosh (2005-06) and Anthony Davis (2014-15), each of which were All-Star selections in those seasons. Gilgeous-Alexander leads the NBA in clutch points per possession (63.4) (min. 10 games). He stands as one of only four players in the Western Conference to average 20+ points and 5+ assists while shooting 50+ percent from the field and 35+ percent from three-point range (LeBron James, Nikola Jokić, Kawhi Leonard).

The Rest is History: Since New Year's Eve the Thunder's first season in OKC (12/31/08), the Thunder has earned a 60.2 win percentage, good for second-best in the league during that time.

TEAM	WIN	LOSS	GAMES	PCT
San Antonio Spurs	653	339	992	.658
Oklahoma City Thunder	601	397	998	.602
Golden State Warriors	575	406	981	.586

Sustaining Success: In the past decade, OKC has compiled the second-best record in the NBA (behind San Antonio). After the 2008-09 season in which Oklahoma City won 20 games after a 3-29 start, the Thunder found ways to improve the club each year and with a 60-22 record during the 2012-13 season, Oklahoma City became just the second team in NBA history (Boston, 1955-1960) to increase its winning percentage for five consecutive seasons (while maintaining a winning percentage of .700 or better in two of those seasons). Oklahoma City has now finished with a winning percentage of .610 (equivalent to 50 wins) seven times dating back to the 2009-10 season. Only San Antonio (eight seasons with .610 or better winning percentage) has reached that benchmark more during this period.

OKLAHOMA CITY THUNDER NOTES

Bubble Wrap: The Thunder's G League affiliate, the Oklahoma City Blue, was one of 18 teams to participate in the 2021 season in Orlando, Fla. The team finished with an 8-7 record and ranked first in rebounding (57.5), third in scoring (115.9), assists (27.1) and blocks (5.7), and sixth in shooting percentage (45.8). Individually, Moses Brown ranked first in rebounding (13.9), logging double-doubles in 11 of his 14 appearances. OKC's Xavier Simpson also ranked seventh in assists (6.1). Additionally, Brown earned All-NBA G League First Team and NBA G League All-Defensive Team honors.

What Can Brown Do for You: On 3/16 at Chicago, Moses Brown set new career marks across the board with 20 points, 16 rebounds and five blocks, making him the only Thunder player besides Ibaka and one of five NBA sophomores in the last 10 years to register a 20-point, 15-rebound, five-block stat line (A. Davis, J. Embiid, N. Jokić, M. Turner). On 3/22 at Minnesota, he grabbed a career-best 17 rebounds and blocked three shots, becoming just the second Thunder player to register those numbers (Ibaka).

Pokumon: In the win over Memphis on 3/14, rookie Aleksej Pokuševski set career marks across the board with his first double-double of 23 points (7-13 FG, 5-8 3FG, 4-4 FT), 10 rebounds and four assists. At 19 years and 78 days, this makes him the youngest Thunder player to score 20+ points and the youngest player in NBA history with 20+ points, 10+ rebounds and 5+ threes in a game. The only younger player in league history to hit five threes in a game was LeBron James in 2003.

Al-Time Great: In the win over Phoenix on 1/27, Al Horford scored his 12,000th-career point, making him one of seven active players with as many points and 1,000+ blocks, finishing with a double-double of a team-high-tying 21 points and a team-best 11 rebounds, shooting a perfect 5-of-5 from long range. The only Thunder player to log a better three-point shooting night was Caron Butler (6-6 3FG on 4/8/14).

Would You Rook at That: On 1/29 vs. Brooklyn, rookie Théo Maledon made this third start in which he tied the best long range shooting night by an NBA rookie since the advent of the three-point line and the most threes in a game by a Thunder rookie by going 6-for-6 from beyond the arc en route to a career-high 24 points (8-9 FG, 2-2 FT), three rebounds and three assists.

Shai It Again: On 1/25 vs. Portland, Shai Gilgeous-Alexander dished out his 600th-career assist, making him one of seven players since he entered the league in 2018 and the only one in his draft class with as many assists, 700+ rebounds and 175+ steals (Beal, Butler, Harden, Jokic, Simmons, Westbrook).

Kenny Hustle: Through the first 20 games of the season, Kenrich Williams ranked as the fourth-best defensive rating in the league (98) while holding opposing players to the fifth-lowest shooting percentage (42.2) (min. 150 min. played).

Skip to my Lu: In the win over the Bulls on 1/15, Luguentz Dort set a career mark with six steals to go with his 21 points and eight rebounds, helping to generate 33 points off Chicago turnovers. Russell Westbrook and Thabo Sefolosha are the only Thunder players to grab more steals in a single game and the last player to swipe as many as Paul George in 2019. Additionally, Dort is just the third player in Thunder history to post at least 20 points, five rebounds and five steals in a single game before the age of 22 (Durant, Westbrook).

Moose on the Loose: In the win over Portland on 1/25, Mike Muscala drained a career-best six shots from beyond the arc and went 8-of-12 from the field to record 23 points, his highest scoring game in a Thunder jersey. He also hit his 300th-career three-point shot, making him the sixth player in his draft class with as many threes made and 150+ blocks.

Am(Baze)ing Performances: On 1/25 at Portland, Darius Bazley scored his 500th-career point, making him one of three sophomores this season to log as many points, 50+ three-point makes and 50+ blocks (Jaren Jackson Jr., P.J. Washington). In the win over the Pelicans on 1/6, Bazley grabbed his 300th-career rebound, making him the sixth Thunder sophomore to tally as many boards and 50+ threes (Kevin Durant, Shai Gilgeous-Alexander, Jeff Green, James Harden, Russell Westbrook), finishing with his third double-double of the season with his 20 points and a game-best 12 rebounds.

Home Cooking: Since arriving in Oklahoma City, the Thunder has always taken pride in defending its home court. Dating back to the start of the 2009-10 season, OKC has gone 327-148 (.688) at home, which stands as the second-best home record in the NBA during this span. Since the 2010-11 season, The Thunder earned 299 wins on home court, which stands as the second-most home wins in that time (San Antonio).

OKC is Fan Friendly: In its 12-year history, the Thunder has been consistently ranked at or near the top in the NBA when it comes to the fan and game experience, local TV ratings on Bally Sports Oklahoma, mobile app downloads, social media engagement and other metrics. For the start of the 2020-21 season, the Thunder has decided to not have fans inside Chesapeake Energy Arena. The decision was made out of an abundance of caution and to protect fans and the community, considering the number of COVID-19 cases and hospitalizations in Oklahoma.

New Kids on the Block: Over the summer, Oklahoma City added some new faces to the roster, including five-time NBA All-Star Al Horford along with Moses Brown, Ty Jerome and Kenrich Williams as well as rookies Théo Maledon and Aleksej Pokuševski and two-way player Josh Hall. The 2020-21 Thunder squad features eight international players in Gabriel Deck (Argentina), Luguentz Dort (Canada), Shai Gilgeous-Alexander (Canada), Jaylen Hoard (France), Al Horford (Dominican Republic), Théo Maledon (France), Svi Mykhailiuk (Ukraine) and Aleksej Pokuševski (Serbia). Oklahoma City began the season with five international players, which ranked tied for the fourth-most international players on a start-of-season roster behind Washington (seven), Dallas (six) and Denver (six).
