GOLDEN STATE WARRIORS 2023-24 GAME NOTES

DEJAN MILOJEVIĆ

April 15, 1977 – January 17, 2024

Golden State Warriors assistant coach Dejan Milojević (DAY-ahn mi-lo-yo-vihch) was hospitalized Tuesday night, January 16, in Salt Lake City, Utah, after suffering a heart attack at a private team dinner. Despite life-saving efforts, Milojević, 46, passed away late Wednesday morning.

“We are absolutely devastated by Dejan’s sudden passing,” said Warriors Head Coach Steve Kerr. “This is a shocking and tragic blow for everyone associated with the Warriors and an incredibly difficult time for his family, friends, and all of us who had the incredible pleasure to work with him. In addition to being a terrific basketball coach, Dejan was one of the most positive and beautiful human beings I have ever known, someone who brought joy and light to every single day with his passion and energy. We grieve with and for his wife, Natasa, and their children, Nikola and Masa. Their loss is unfathomable.”

Milojević was in his third season as an assistant coach with the Warriors and was a member of the team’s coaching staff during Golden State’s run to the 2022 NBA Championship. Before joining the Warriors, Milojević spent the 2021 season as head coach of KK Budućnost in the Adriatic League in Montenegro.

Prior to KK Budućnost, Milojević served as the head coach for KK Mega Basket in Belgrade, Serbia, for eight seasons (2012-20). In December 2019, he was named an assistant coach for the Serbian national team under Igor Kokoškov. Milojević was a member of the Atlanta Hawks Summer League staff in 2016, the San Antonio Spurs in 2017 and the Houston Rockets in 2018.

A native of Belgrade, Milojević enjoyed a 14-year international playing career and was named the Adriatic League Most Valuable Player three times (2004-06).

CHASE CENTER, SAN FRANCISCO, CA

April 7, 2024 -- Klay Thompson scored 25 of his game-high 32 points in the first half and Jonathan Kuminga, returning to the lineup after a six-game absence (bilateral knee tendonitis), recorded a 21-point, 10-rebound double-double to help lead the Warriors to a 118-110 win at Chase Center over the Jazz, sending Utah to its 12th-consecutive loss. Stephen Curry (rest), Andrew Wiggins (left ankle soreness), and Dario Saric (right knee lateral joint pain) all did not play.

The Warriors led, 41-28, after the first quarter, and held a 68-54 halftime lead. Golden State opened the third quarter on a 13-4 for an 81-58 advantage, its largest lead of the game. The Warriors maintained a double-digit lead until the final seconds of the game.

Rookies Trayce Jackson-Davis and Brandin Podziemski each tallied 16 points. Chris Paul added 12 points and a game-high nine assists. Kuminga, who led the Warriors in rebounding, scored 20-or-more for the sixth consecutive game off the bench, tying him with matching Sarunas Marciulionis for the most consecutive 20-point games off the bench in Warriors franchise history since 1970-71, when starters were first tracked. The Jazz were led by Johnny Juzang's career-high 27 points off the bench. Keyonte George added 25 points, Collin Sexton had 15 points and Taylor Hendricks scored 10 points. BENCH POWER

This season, the Warriors reserves have outscored the opponent's in 53 of the 78 games. Golden State's bench is outscoring the opponent's, 3,332 to 2,559, a difference of 773. The Warriors' 42.7 points per game is ranked third in the NBA behind Indiana (46.4) and Utah (43.1). Four times this season the Warriors' reserves have scored at least 60 points, including a season-high 80 points on December 12, 2023 at Phoenix - it's tied for the sixth-most in a single season since 1970-71 (six is the most, 1989-90).

The Warriors' reserves scored at least 60 points in two straight games (60 vs. New York, 63 vs. Memphis), marking the fourth time in franchise history since 1970-71 when starters/bench stats were officially tracked that the Warriors have had consecutive 60-point games from their reserves. The Warriors have never done it in three consecutive games. Indiana has this season's longest bench scoring streak of 60-or-more points with six straight games (12/11-12/20/23). Golden State, Detroit and San Antonio each have two-game 60-point bench scoring streaks this season.

On 12/12 at Phoenix, the Warriors reserves accounted for a season-high 80 points against the Suns. The 80 points were the most scored by the Warriors bench since they tallied 88 points in the final regular season game of 2022-23 on April 9 at Portland. Five Warriors off the bench scored in double figures, a first since 11/9/09 vs. Minnesota. At Phoenix, Brandin Podziemski (20 points), Jonathan Kuminga (16), Chris Paul (15), Dario Saric (15), and Moses Moody (12) each scored in double figures.

The Warriors bench outscored their counterparts in the first 12 games of the season, marking the first time since starters were first tracked in 1970-71 that the Warriors have done this, according to the Elias Sports Bureau. It tied the second-longest such streak in franchise history (3/18/92 - 4/5/92 and 12/23/75 - 1/16/76), trailing only a 14-game streak (2/18/70 - 3/13/70).

KUMINGA'S ASCENSION

Jonathan Kuminga returned to the lineup in the last game (April 7 vs. Utah) after missing the previous six games with bilateral knee tendonitis. With 21 points off the bench, he tied Sarunas Marciulionis for the most consecutive 20-point games off the bench with six. Kuminga has tallied double figures in 50 of the last 52 games he has played in, including the last 12. Kuminga's career-high double-figure scoring streak ended at 34 games after he scored six points on 2/23 vs. Charlotte. Earlier this season Kuminga had a career-high eight-game 20-point streak.

After the first 18 games of the season, Kuminga had played in 17 of them, averaging 10.9 points (43.8 FG%, 19.4 3P%, 70.3 FT%), 2.9 rebounds, 0.9 assists in 19.8 minutes per game. In the next 51 games (beginning with Nov. 30 vs. Clippers), Kuminga's numbers increased - 18.1 points (55.4 FG%, 35.5 3P%, 75.3 FT%), 5.4 rebounds, 2.5 assists in 28.4 minutes per game. As a starter this season in 44 games, Kuminga is averaging 17.5 points (53.3 FG%, 29.0 3P%, 76.7 FT%), 5.3 rebounds, 2.8 assists in 29.0 minutes per game. In 27 appearances off the bench Kuminga is averaging 14.4 points (53.2 FG%, 35.8 3P%, 69.4 FT%), 4.1 rebounds and 1.1 assists in 21.9 minutes per game.

Kuminga's career-high 20-point streak ended at eight games after he finished with 16 points on February 3 at Atlanta. He scored at least 20 points in eight consecutive games (five of which were as a reserve), a career-best 20-point streak (25.6 ppg, 63.3 FG%, 56.5 3P%). The last Warriors player to score at least 20 points while shooting at least 50 percent from the field for eight consecutive games was Jordan Poole with nine such games (3/3 - 3/20/22), according to the Elias Sports Bureau.

It's the longest 20-point streak by a reserve in the league since Bogdan Bogdanović had a six game 20-point streak early this season (12/6-12/22/23). The longest streak before Bogdanović was a seven-game streak by Tyler Herro (2/25-3/7/22).

Since 1970-71, Kuminga is the second youngest (21 years, 98 days) to record five-straight 20-point games off the bench, behind only Bennedict Mathurin who was 20 years, 216 days old when he recorded his fifth consecutive 20-point game off the bench (1/21-1/29/23).

TRIO WINS 400

With the 134-112 win over the Hawks on January 24, Stephen Curry, Klay Thompson, Draymond Green have combined for 400 regular season wins, joining 12 other trios in NBA history with 400-or-more wins. It took 545 regular season games for the trio to win their 400th (400-145 record). Following the January 24th win vs. Atlanta, the trio had compiled a 498-191 combined record in 689 regular season and playoff games.

Last month, the trio was recognized on November 30, 2023 vs. the Clippers as their jersey numbers were represented in the date - Thompson (#11), Curry (#30) and Green (#23). Curry, Thompson and Green have played together with the Golden State Warriors since the 2012-13 season. The first game all three played in was Green's NBA debut on October 31, 2012, an 87-85 win at Phoenix. They are four-time NBA champions (2015, 2017, 2018, 2022) - Only 31 players have won four titles with the same team. The trio has made six NBA Finals, including five straight (2015-2019). They have a combined 18 All-Star appearances, 13 All-NBA Team selections, nine All-Defensive Team honors, two MVP awards, one NBA Finals MVP award and one Defensive Player of the Year award.

Of the 10 trios that played together for 10-or-more seasons, only the Warriors trio is made up of three players to only have ever played for a single team. Golden State's trio is tied with Boston's three of Robert Parish, Kevin McHale and Larry Bird (1980-1991) for the second-most seasons played together by three players, trailing only the 14 by San Antonio's Tony Parker, Manu Ginobili and Tim Duncan (2002-2015). Parish, who began his NBA career with the Warriors, and Parker went on to play for other NBA teams during their careers.
